Robotic Welding, Intelligence and Automation Tzyh-Jong Tarn, Shan-Ben Chen, Changjiu Zhou, 2007-09-11 Robotic welding systems have been used in different types of manufacturing They can provide several benefits in welding applications The most prominent advantages of robotic welding are precision and productivity Another benefit is that labor costs can be reduced Robotic welding also reduces risk by moving the human welder operator away from hazardous fumes and molten metal close to the welding arc The robotic welding system usually involves measuring and identifying the component to be welded we ing it in position controlling the welding parameters and documenting the produced welds However traditional robotic welding systems rely heavily upon human intervention It does not seem that the traditional robotic welding techniques by themselves can cope well with uncertainties in the welding surroundings and conditions e g variation of weld pool dynamics fluxion solid weld torch and etc On the other hand the advent of intelligent techniques provides us with a powerful tool for solving demanding real world problems with uncertain and unpredictable environments Therefore it is interesting to gather current trends and to provide a high quality forum for engineers and researchers working in the field of intelligent techniques for robotic welding systems This volume brings together a broad range of invited and contributed papers that describe recent progress in this field Robotic Fabrication in Architecture, Art and Design 2016 Dagmar Reinhardt, Rob Saunders, Jane Burry, 2016-02-03 The book presents the proceedings of Rob Arch 2016 the third international conference on robotic fabrication in architecture art and design The work contains a wide range of contemporary topics from methodologies for incorporating dynamic material feedback into existing fabrication processes to novel interfaces for robotic programming to new processes for large scale automated construction The latent argument behind this research is that the term file to factory must not be a reductive celebration of expediency but instead a perpetual challenge to increase the quality of feedback between design matter and making
