Christian Women in Indonesia Frances S. Adeney,2003-01-01 This important book offers an edifying narrative of Indonesian women who find a new and powerful voice in the course of preparing to become Christian pastors and theologians in their native land By assuming roles of responsibility these women stand ready to transform understandings of gender differences that have traditionally governed Indonesian culture like the notion that women are an inferior sex and not suited to leadership In a broader sense they join a growing global course toward gender equality and the evolution of women s spirituality Frances S Adeney clearly shows how religious inspired resistance led these women to create new practices and theologies designed to foster parity Realizing that Western ideas are inapplicable to foreign issues of gender and religion the author sheds light on the twin questions of cultural isolation and the complexities of doing research in the postmodern era The Code for Global Ethics Rodrigue Tremblay,2010-12

Humanists have long contended that morality is a strictly human concern and should be independent of religious creeds and dogma This principle was clearly articulated in the two Humanist Manifestos issued in the mid twentieth century and in Humanist Manifesto 2000 which appeared at the beginning of the twenty first century Now this code for global ethics further elaborates ten humanist principles designed for a world community that is growing ever closer together In the face of the obvious challenges to international stability from nuclear proliferation environmental degradation economic turmoil and reactionary and sometimes violent religious movements a code based on the natural dignity and inherent worth of all human beings is needed more than ever In separate chapters the author delves into the issues surrounding these ten humanist principles preserving individual dignity and equality respecting life and property tolerance sharing preventing domination of others eliminating superstition conserving the natural environment resolving differences cooperatively without resort to violence or war political and economic democracy and providing for universal education This forward looking optimistic and eminently reasonable discussion of humanist ideals makes an important contribution to laying the foundations for a just and peaceable global community Catholic Moral Theology in the United States Charles E. Curran,2008-04-11

Magical Progeny, Modern Technology Swasti Bhattacharyya, 2012-02-01. Magical Progeny: Modern Technology examines Hindu perspectives on assisted reproductive technology through an exploration of birth narratives in the great Indian epic, the Mahabharata. Reproductive technology is at the forefront of contemporary bioethical debates and in the United States often centers on ethical issues framed by conflicts among legal, scientific and religious perspectives. Author Swasti Bhattacharyya weaves together elements from South Asian studies, religion, literature, law and bioethics as well as experiences from her previous career as a nurse to construct a Hindu response to the debate. Through analysis of the mythic stories in the Mahabharata, specifically the birth narratives of the five Pandava brothers and their Kaurava cousins, she draws out principles and characteristics of Hindu thought. She broadens the bioethical discussions by applying Hindu perspectives to a California court case over the parentage of a child conceived through reproductive technology and compares specific Hindu and Roman Catholic attitudes toward assisted reproductive technology. Magical Progeny: Modern Technology provides insightful ways to explore ethical issues and highlights concerns often overlooked in contemporary discussions occurring within the United States.

Global Crises and the Challenges of the 21st Century Thomas Reifer, 2015-10-23. Despite prognostications of the end of history, the 21st century has posed new challenges and a host of global crises. This book takes up the current global economic crisis in relation to new and changing dynamics of territory, authority and rights in today's global system. The authors explore long simmering conflicts in comparative perspective, including settler colonialism in South Africa, Northern Ireland and Israel/Palestine. They discuss indigenous struggles against environmental land grabs and related destruction of indigenous lands by the US nuclear weapons complex. The book uniquely considers the sacred in the context of the global system, including struggles of Latino farm workers in the US for social justice and for change in the Catholic Church. Other chapters examine questions of civilizations and identity in the contemporary global system as well as the role of world regions.

Soul, Self, and Society Michael Rynkiewicz, 2012-01-05 Globalization and urbanization are twin forces that are powerfully shaping economics politics and religion in the world today Traditional anthropological theories are inadequate to recognize and analyze trends such as global migration diasporas and transnationalism New departures in anthropology and the social sciences seeking to address these and other phenomena can help us critique and reshape the theology and practice of Christian mission Today most societies are no longer monocultural In such multicultural contexts any given individual may be competent in several cultures several languages several social networks What does it mean to be in mission with people on the move people who present themselves in one social identity language and culture within a particular setting and then in another setting even on the very same day present themselves in another social identity language and culture In the face of widespread rapid movement of peoples and their increasingly fluid and multifaceted identities will the missionary settle down somewhere or be itinerant along with the people How are perplexing new questions in particular contexts to be addressed such as In what ways is the Nigerian who is founding an AIC congregation near Houston a missionary too How will Brazilians and Koreans be trained for cross cultural ministry The world is changing faster than missionaries can be retrained for service And yet ethnographic tools are still crucial to missionary practice This important work seeks to draw on recent developments in anthropology to bring valuable perspective and tools to bear on equipping missionaries for work amidst the rapid shifting and complex shaping of peoples by the forces of today's globalized world

A History of Catholic Moral Theology in the Twentieth Century James F. Keenan, 2010-01-17 This is an historical survey of 20th Century Roman Catholic Theological Ethics also known as moral theology The thesis is that only through historical investigation can we really understand how the most conservative and negative field in Catholic theology at the beginning of the 20th could become by the end of the 20th century the most innovative one The 20th century begins with moral manuals being translated into the vernacular After examining the manuals of Thomas Slater and Henry Davis Keenan then turns to three works and a crowning synthesis of innovation all developed before during and soon after the Second World War The first by Odon Lottin asks whether moral theology is adequately historical Fritz Tillmann asks whether it is adequately biblical and Gerard Gilleman whether it is adequately spiritual Bernard Haering integrates these contributions into his Law of Christ Of course people like Gerald Kelly and John Ford in the US are like a few moralists elsewhere classical gate keepers censoring innovation But with Humanae vitae and successive encyclicals bishops and popes reject the direction of moral theologians At the same time moral theologians like Josef Fuchs ask whether the locus of moral truth is in continuous universal teachings of the magisterium or in the moral judgment of the informed conscience In their move toward a deeper appreciation of their field as forming consciences they turn more deeply to local experience where they continue their work of innovation Each continent subsequently gives rise to their own respondents In Europe they speak of autonomy and personalism in Latin America liberation theology in North America Feminism and Black Catholic theology and in Asia and Africa a deep post colonial interculturatism At the end I assert that in its nature theological ethics is historical and innovative seeking moral truth for the conscience by looking to speak crossculturally

Comparative Religious Ethics Christine E. Gudorf, 2013-01-01 Unlike other texts Gudorfs work focuses on common everyday issues including food and diet work sex and marriage proper dress anger and violence charity family and infirmity and the elderly while drawing out ethical implications of each and demonstrating how different religious traditions prescribe rules for action An introductory chapter reviews standard ethical theory and core elements of comparative religious analysis Each chapter opens with a riveting real life case and shows how religious ethics can shed light on how to handle the larger issues without determining for the reader what a proper ethical response might be
