Excerpts from the CD-ROM created by Barbara Csenge and Mike Bann for the Sprockets Education Programme

Writing a successful film review is like baking really great cookies. As a chef you need to pay attention to essential ingredients to make the recipe work but creativity and personal choices are what make the final result more tasty and interesting.

As a film review writer you must consider basic elements such as the story, character, technical details, sound/music and the theme or message in the film. A chef must think about who they are baking cookies for, a film reviewer, in the same way should pay attention to their audience, who will read the review and what their tastes and interests might be. Not every element must be discussed in every review. The film you are reviewing will determine the elements that should be discussed.

As well, decisions about film are based on what you prefer (fantasy or science fiction) and what is happening in your world. To write a successful film review it is important to lead or introduce your review with reasons for your choice and conclude with a summary of how all the elements, story, character, technical details, sound/music and the theme combine to make the film entertaining.

Lead/Introduction

A strong introduction is an important element to any writing assignment. Film reviewers call this a lead and use it to draw the reader into the body of their review. When writing a film review, a lead provides a broad picture of the importance of the film. This may have something to do with the actors, the novel from which the film is adapted, the theme or social issues dealt with in the film or some other noteworthy feature. Once this broad or general introduction is made the rest of the film review should deal with specific details in the film, (character, plot, technical elements, sound and theme). When you get to the end of your review after discussing specific details of character, plot, technical elements, sound and theme, the conclusion should relate back to what you discuss in your lead. The overall effect should be to "wrap up" your point of view regarding the film.

Plot

The plot is a pattern of events in the main story of the film. A film reviewer should summarize

Making Writing Meaningful Michele Eodice, Anne Ellen Geller, Neal Lerner, 2025-04-22 It seems obvious: students will have more meaningful writing experiences if we offer more opportunities for their writing to be meaningful for them. But what does that mean? What makes writing meaningful for students? What really makes students want to write? The authors of this practical little book asked precisely that and the answers they gathered from students across disciplines, majors and institutions over several years inform their advice in Making Writing Meaningful: A Guide for Higher Education. The critical lessons that Michele Eodice, Anne Ellen Geller and Neal Lerner took from their survey research as well as from their own classrooms and workshops are these: Students want their writing to be consequential to build on connections with their lives, their world and their futures and to foster an inclusive learning experience. The authors delved further into these findings by asking what role identities whether racial ethnic or cultural played in students approach to writing and by exploring what students found meaningful in writing during experiences such as disruption dislocation and loss personal economic and health challenges and political racial and societal conflict The resulting guide pairs a wealth of new data with pedagogical strategies and reflective exercises to help instructors of all kinds connect more effectively with their students and to help students connect their lives and their writing in meaningful and productive ways Meaningful writing makes for a richer more successful learning experience and this book invites students and teachers alike to take advantage of the guidance offered here to foster connections that will serve students and the world well beyond academia
