and most respected martial arts title in the industry this popular monthly magazine addresses the needs of martial artists of all levels by providing them with information about every style of self defense in the world including techniques and strategies In addition Black Belt produces and markets over 75 martial arts oriented books and videos including many about the works of Bruce Lee the best known marital arts figure in the world      Black Belt ,2000-12 The oldest and most respected martial arts title in the industry this popular monthly magazine addresses the needs of martial artists of all levels by providing them with information about every style of self defense in the world including techniques and strategies In addition Black Belt produces and markets over 75 martial arts oriented books and videos including many about the works of Bruce Lee the best known marital arts figure in the world      Hajime Antonio (Tone) Resende,2013-09 For several years I have wanted to write the history of karate in Southeastern Massachusetts However there always seemed to be other priorities that distracted my focus In 2009 I retired from my position as a police detective and having been retired from the armed forces I now had no legitimate reason not to devote as much time as possible to such a good karate idea well except for a brief period of hospitalization due to a serious surgery that kept me hospitalized for twenty seven days and then at home for three weeks under nurses care with months of recovery Karate history in general is in some cases somewhat obscured including in the United States I am willing to bet that not many people have thought of or proceeded to put in writing any historical account of karate in specific communities of the United States other than the Armed Services Judo and Jujitsu Academy in Pensacola Florida and the paper Helium by Can Tran There are a number of historical writings as to how karate was introduced to the United States however I have not come across any historical account that takes us from Japan to the United States and to a particular community There are also a number of historical accounts but only pertaining to individual organizations or instructors For this reason I decided that this may spark the interest of other practitioners of martial arts to write factual accounts to the best of their abilities so that other young martial artists may draw some knowledge from these written facts or events Even if this does not occur at least the Shotokan practitioners can have some guidance as to the historical facts at least in a certain US community The reason I emphasize the Shotokan practitioners is because I have a greater involvement with the Shotokan system of karate Perhaps this can be used as the basis of historical research or studies especially among the college clubs and even dojos I hope to keep your interest from beginning to end as I will cover a short history of karate in general and Shotokan karate to the history of karate in Southeastern Massachusetts This will also be useful in recognizing specific individuals masters and instructors that deserve the credit and acknowledgment since karate remains a sport with less recognition compared to other sports As Gichin Funakoshi often reminded his students The spirit of karate do is lost without courtesy Therefore this written account expresses the acknowledgment of those who brought karate to us beginning at the grass roots of the communities for this is how it manifested to national participation This is one courtesy we often forget it is like not knowing or forgetting where we come from So often I have come across karate practitioners that are black belts and instructing karate classes and they do not know much if anything about how and where karate began and how it spread to all parts of the world Sure if you should ask any person with some karate interest as to where karate originated and how it spread they almost always give the basic knowledge that it started from Dharma in India to China to Okinawa but not a whole lot more than that In Japan karate is a culture not just instructions on how to kick and punch As to this I quote Funakoshi s writing The ultimate aim of Karate lies not in victory or defeat but in the perfection of the character of the participant Through this there are a number of dojo kun to be followed and the five most important are the following seek perfection of character be faithful endeavor to excel respect others and refrain from violent behavior These are usually found posted on a wall in the dojo Additional dojo kun will be listed at the end of the book in both Japanese and English Martial Arts Teachers on Teaching Carol A. Wiley,1995 Teaching is an art Effective martial arts teachers must not only be competent practitioners but must also develop the communication and interpersonal skills of any good teacher In this collection twenty six experienced martial arts teachers discuss the process of learning and teaching a martial art from the nuts and bolts of teaching technique to the philosophical underpinnings of training Tsuku-Kihon Luis Bernardo Mercado,2012 Tsuku Kihon refers to powerful and dynamic techniques used and taught by some Shotokan karate instructors the idea behind Tsuku Kihon is that power and closing distance are greatly enhanced by propelling the body forward using basic karate principles A group of approximately 25 Tsuku Kihon combinations was developed by several Shotokan instructors in the middle of the 20th century Sensei Luis Bernardo Mercado decided to expand and categorize Tsuku Kihon in order to increase its applications and to create a formal structure for teaching them Many months of trial and error by the author of this book resulted in an additional 42 combinations and three methods by which Tsuku Kihon can be systematically taught to intermediate and advanced karate students This book is a result of that effort This 2nd Edition also has beautiful original artwork by Nobu Kaji and Egil Thomson Religion and Sport in Japan Zachary T. Smith,Dennis J. Frost,Stephen G. Covell,2024-09-30 The sports world s attention was focused on Japan for the Tokyo 2020 Summer Olympics and Paralympics The years long buildup to and aftermath of the games occurred in the midst of the global pandemic which delayed the event until 2021 Given all of this there is perhaps no better time to delve into an often overlooked but critical facet of sport in Japan religion Religion has long been a part of the Japanese sport tradition from Shugend practitioners offering sumo bouts to the gods to soccer players of all ages praying for success at Shint shrines from the use of meditation and ritual in martial arts to gain focus or superhuman abilities to religious organizations sponsoring sporting events and teams and school sports clubs Religion and Sport in Japan brings together historians and sport and religious studies specialists from Japan the US and Europe to address sport s ties to corporate and national identity politics environmentalism ritual and sacred space Major themes discussed include the spiritual geographies of sport sport as invented tradition technologies of self material culture and civil religion The chapters are written so that sport historians with no background in the study of Japan or religious studies scholars who have never before examined the world of sport will find the material accessible To provide further grounding for non field specialists the volume begins with two background chapters that introduce sport studies in Japan and the study of religion and sport
