International Business Ethics Stephan Rothlin,Dennis McCann,2015-07-29 This book addresses an essential need felt by many who seek to promote best business practices in China and East Asia namely the need for culturally appropriate instructional materials basic information case studies and ethical perspectives that will allow managers and entrepreneurs to understand and embrace the challenge of moral leadership in business In an era characterized by globalization and the increasing importance of the economies of China India Japan and SE Asia international business ethics must reflect the concerns of the people living and working in this area the moral and spiritual traditions that have nurtured them and their specific contributions to sustainable development This book presents twenty important case studies taken from newsworthy events of the past few years in which Asians and others have attempted to respond to this challenge Each case study has been selected and shaped in order to highlight various aspects of doing business in Asia starting with basic principles and moving on to the specific responsibilities that businesses have towards their various stakeholders The authors contend that the best way to appreciate the relevance of Asian moral and spiritual traditions is to determine their specific contribution to virtue ethics where the ancient traditions of both East and West converge in their focus on the qualities of moral leadership that form the basis of best business practice Exploring the case studies will enable readers to appreciate the continued relevance of these ethical perspectives in Asian business Best business practice clearly involves learning to do business and playing the game according to the rules but the necessity of playing by the rules is not likely to become clear until one takes up the path that leads to a virtuous life in business developing a moral character chiefly based on integrity

The Dark Side Emmanuel Raufflet, Albert J. Mills, 2017-09-08 The discredit of a certain brand of capitalism and the managers that practice it continues apace The increasing lack of tolerance for short term thinking and a systematic neglect of the social regulatory and economic conditions in which business ought to operate means we are entering a time of trouble and questions an era of economic social and environmental turbulence There is a critical need for business educators and trainers to expose students and managers to these issues to examine explore and understand the different multifaceted complex phenomena of our late capitalist era There is also a need to foster a climate for future and current business managers to reflect feel and think differently both ethically and cognitively The 16 innovative case studies in The Dark Side Critical Cases on the Downside of Business are designed for this very purpose to provoke reflection and debate to challenge and change perceptions and to create responsible managers The cases are innovative in two ways First in terms of content they acknowledge the diversity of actors and interests in and around organizations They contain different levels of analysis and propose different points of view and logics They recognize that decisions that seem sound when they are made may actually contain the seeds of their later failure Second these cases are innovative in terms of format Whereas most cases are formatted around decision making situations these are more diverse and open ended This stimulates the use of judgment the capacity to synthesize integrate and balance short and long term effects appreciate effects on different groups and learn to listen and evaluate Whereas decision making is the key skill when confronting complicated issues and situations judgment making relies on experience and is a far better tool in the complex murky gray areas typical of business ethics The cases included here are all finalists or award winners from the first seven years of the Dark Side of Business Case Competition a joint event of the Academy of Management's Critical Management Studies Section and Management Education Section In many areas of management case studies are almost exclusively devoted to best practice cases or difficult decisions faced by basically well managed firms When educators look for resources to illustrate to students the more typical cases let alone the really scandalous practices of the worst firms the cupboard is almost entirely bare From the beginning the Dark Side competition aimed at encouraging case studies that integrate socio political issues with organizational dynamics thus contextualizing organizational and management problems within the broader system of capitalism These cases comprise a diverse and rich collection from a range of countries continents and issues and focus on interactions in business organizations as well as between business organizations and groups and societies The Dark Side Critical Cases on the Downside of Business is divided into four sections The first sheds light on gray areas in the behavior of businesses The second concerns the interactions between business and local communities in diverse countries The third concerns crises and specifically how firms may create or manage them Finally the fourth section concerns gray areas in business behavior in the global context The Dark Side Critical Cases on the Downside of Business will be an essential purchase for educators and is expected to be a widely used resource at all levels of management education Online Teaching Notes to accompany each chapter are available on request with the purchase of the book Financial Disclosure Reports of Members of the U.S. House of Representatives for the Period Between January 1, 2009 and December 31, 2009 United States.
