Yadav, 2019-06-06 This book proposes three normative frameworks pertaining to risk measurement disclosure and governance using expert opinion and data from the top 429 non financial companies of the NIFTY 500 index over a 10 year period The book offers a novel contribution to the global literature on disclosure quality by presenting a composite measure of the quality as well as quantity of risk disclosures Focusing on the quality of risk disclosures and risk governance structures and using sophisticated methodology to tackle the issue of endogeneity the book explores the important yet uncharted confluence of accounting information risk and corporate governance It addresses the interplay between three facets of risk and is corroborated by practitioners perspectives as well as case studies It is an excellent resource for practitioners professionals and policy makers in addition to researchers working on the topic

Aging with HIV in Sub-Saharan Africa Mark Brennan-Ing, Kristen E. Porter, Jennifer E. Kaufman, Catherine MacPhail, Janet Seeley, 2022-06-16 With the development of effective antiretroviral therapies ART in the mid 1990s HIV became a treatable although serious condition and people who are adherent to HIV medications can attain normal or near normal life expectancies Because of the success of ART people 50 and older now make up a majority of people with HIV in high income countries and other places where ART is accessible The aging of the HIV epidemic is a global trend that is also being observed in low and middle income countries including countries in sub Saharan Africa where the greatest number of older people with HIV reside 3 7 million While globally over half of older adults with HIV are in sub Saharan Africa we have little information about the circumstances needs and resiliencies of this population which limits our ability to craft effective policy and programmatic responses to aging with HIV in this region At present our understanding of HIV and aging is dominated by information from the U S and Western Europe where the epidemiology of HIV and the infrastructure to provide social care are markedly different than in sub Saharan Africa Aging with HIV in Sub Saharan Africa addresses this gap in our knowledge by providing current research and perspectives on a range of health and psychosocial topics concerning these older adults from across this region This volume provides a unique and timely overview of growing older with HIV in a sub Saharan African context covering such topics as epidemiology health and functioning and social support as well as policy and program implications to support those growing older with HIV There are very few published volumes that address HIV and aging and this is the first book to consider HIV and aging in sub Saharan Africa Most publications in this area focus on HIV and aging in Uganda and South Africa This volume broadens the scope with contributions from authors working in West Africa Botswana and Kenya The range of topics covered here will be useful to professionals in a range of disciplines including psychology epidemiology gerontology sociology health care public health and social work

Neuroepidemiology in Resource-Limited Areas Ding Ding, Wenzhi Wang, Patrick Kwan, 2020-06-04 Neuroepidemiology is a branch of epidemiology involving the study of neurological disease distribution and determinants of frequency in human populations Neuroepidemiology has been perceived for a long time as a science of incidence prevalence risk factors natural history and prognosis of neurological disorders However the other integral part of neuroepidemiology is experimental neuroepidemiology which is research based on clinical trials of effectiveness or efficacy of various interventions in neurological disorders Neuroepidemiological researches have been conducted since 1960 s with the development of epidemiological methodology and advance of the clinical neurology Most improvement of neuroepidemiology was in western countries largely in US and European countries This study field has been developed quite late in resourcelimited areas where 60% of world s populations are living in Disease burden of neurological disorders such as stroke epilepsy migraine neurodegenerated diseases AD PD multiple sclerosis MS amyotrophic lateral sclerosis ALS are extremely heavy in low and middle income countries LAMICs especially with the increasing aging population in these regions Because of their progressive and disabling nature these neurological disorders have major adverse personal social and economic consequences Prevention and early detection are critical because there are no cures and the clinical diagnosis typically occurs after substantial and often irreversible neuronal loss
