Embodiment Gender and Sexuality Joseph Opatoshu Sabine Koller, 2017-12-02 At the turn of the twentieth century East European Jews underwent a radical cultural transformation which turned a traditional religious community into a modern nation struggling to find its place in the world An important figure in this Jewish Renaissance was the American Yiddish writer and activist Joseph Opatoshu 1886 1954 Born into a Hassidic family he spent his early childhood in a forest in Central Poland was educated in Russia and studied engineering in France and America In New York where he emigrated in 1907 he joined the revitalizing modernist group Di yunge The Young His early novels painted a vivid picture of social turmoil and inner psychological conflict using modernist devices of multiple voices and mixed linguistic idioms. He acquired international fame by his historical novels about the Polish uprising of 1863 and the expulsion of Jews from Regensburg in 1519 Though he was translated into several languages Yiddish writing always fostered his ideas and ideals of Jewish identity Although he occupied a key position in the transnational Jewish culture during his lifetime Opatoshu has until recently been neglected by scholars This volume brings together literary specialists and historians working in Jewish and Slavic Studies who analyse Opatoshu s quest for modern Jewish identity from different perspectives The contributors are Shlomo Berger Amsterdam Marc Caplan Baltimore MD Gennady Estraikh New York Roland Gruschka Heidelberg Ellie Kellman Boston Sabine Koller Regensburg Mikhail Krutikov Ann Arbor MI Joshua Lambert Amherst MA Harriet Muray Urbana Champaign IL Avrom Novershtern Jerusalem Dan Opatoshu Los Angeles Eugenia Prokop Janiec Krakow Jan Schwarz Lund Astrid Starck Basel Mulhouse Karolina Szymaniak Krakow and Evita Wiecki Munich Blooming and Contending Michael S. Duke, 1985 Chinese literature has been the slave of politics at least since 1948 and especially during the Cultural Revolution So repressed and convoluted is most Chinese literature that the West cannot read it as literature at all but rather as sociological and political texts Professor Duke believes this has changed enough since 1977 to permit genuine literary analysis This book surveys and analyzes the most important literary events in the PRC from 1977 to 1982 Chapter I covers the significant changes in the Chinese Party line on literature and art during this period and thus provides the backdrop for literary and artistic endeavor Subsequent chapters deal with the critique of Chinese literature by China's own writers the neo realistic fiction of 1979 80 the nonfiction works of a courageous investigative reporter for the People's Daily and the theme of humanism and its treatment in the works of Bai Hua and Dai Houying The final chapter discusses the post Mao generation of young writers who are trying to create works that go beyond narrowly ideological boundaries of the past and reach toward a Housing the New Romans Katharine T. von Stackelberg, Elizabeth Macaulay-Lewis, 2017 true modern Chinese literature In the last twenty years reception studies have significantly enhanced our understanding of the ways in which Classics has shaped modern Western culture but very little attention has been directed toward the reception of classical architecture Housing the New Romans Architectual Reception and Classical Style in the Modern World addresses this gap by investigating ways in which appropriation and allusion facilitated the reception of Classical Greece and Rome through the

requisition and redeployment of classicizing tropes to create neo Antique sites of dwelling in the 19th and early 20th centuries The volume across nine essays will cover both European and American iterations of place making including Sir John Soanes house in London the H tel de Beauharnais in Paris and the Getty Villa in California By focusing on structures and places that are oriented towards private life houses hotels clubs tombs and gardens the volume directs the critical gaze towards diverse and complex sites of curatorial self fashioning The goal of the volume is to provide a multiplicity of interpretative frameworks e g object agency enchantment hyperreality memory infrastructure that may be applied to the study of architectural reception This critical approach makes Housing the New Romans the first work of its kind in the emerging field of architectural and landscape reception studies and in the hitherto textually dominated field of classical The Ladies' Man Elinor Lipman, 2000-05-09 From the beloved author of Ms Demeanor and Every Tom Dick Harry comes a darkly romantic comedy of manners that confirms Elinor Lipman's appointment to the Jane Austen chair in modern American sensibility Thirty unmarried years have passed since the barely suitable Harvey Nash failed to show up at a grand Boston hotel for his own engagement party Today the near bride Adele Dobbin and her two sisters Lois and Kathleen blame Harvey for what unkind relatives call their spinsterhood and what potential beaus might characterize as a leery united front The doorbell rings one cold April night Harvey Nash older filled with regrets sort of more charming and arousable than ever just in from the Coast where he s reinvented himself as Nash Harvey jingle composer and chronic bachelor has returned to the scene of his first romantic crime Despite the sisters scars and grudges despite his platinum tongue and roving eye this old flame becomes an improbable catalyst for the untried and the long overdue The refined and level headed Adele finds herself flirting with her boss on public television Entrepreneurial Kathleen is suddenly drinking cappuccino with Lorenz the handsome doorman at the luxury high rise where she owns a lingerie boutique And Lois the only sister to have embarked on the road to matrimony and subsequently divorce revives her long cherished notion that Harvey abandoned Adele rather than indulge his preference for another Dobbin Both comic and compassionate The Ladies Man has all of Lipman's trademark wit Thomas Mann Hermann Kurzke, 2021-09-14 This vivid sometimes tragic wattage and social mischief with an extra bite and often humorous literary biography brings to life as never before the extraordinary talent and complex person who was Thomas Mann Engrossing vignettes enable us to enter Mann's life and work from unique angles We meet the difficult even unsavory private man hypochondriac and nervous narcissistic and vainglorious isolated and greedy for love shy and often ungenerous But we are also introduced to a man who lived an eventful life was capable of great kindness loved dogs doted on his daughters and listened to Jack Benny We experience Mann's tragedy as the quintessential German forced by the rise of National Socialism first into inner exile and then into real exile in Switzerland Princeton and California His letters from this time reveal the torment that exile represented for a writer whose work indeed whose very self was inextricably bound up with the German language The book provides fresh and sometimes startling insights into both famous and little known episodes in Mann's life and into his writing the only realm in which he ever felt free It shows how love death religion and politics were not merely themes in Buddenbrooks The Magic Mountain and other works but were woven into the fabric of his existence and preoccupied him unrelentingly It also teases out what is known about what Mann considered his celibate homoeroticism and what others have labeled closeted homosexuality In particular we learn about his affection for the young man who inspired the character of Tadzio in Death in Venice And against the unfocused accusations of anti Semitism that have been leveled at Mann the book examines in human detail his relationships with Jewish writers friends and family members This is the richest available portrait of Thomas Mann as man and writer the place to start for anyone wanting to know anything about his life work or times Who's who in Gay and Lesbian History Robert Aldrich, Garry Wotherspoon, 2001 500 entries from more than 100 contributors profiling gay and lesbians throughout history ranging from Sappho to Andre Gide most entries are accompanied by a bibliography Re-visioning Historical Fiction for Young Readers Kim Wilson, 2011-06-15 This study is concerned with how readers are positioned to interpret the past in historical fiction for children and young adults Looking at literature published within the last thirty to forty years Wilson identifies and explores a prevalent trend for re visioning and rewriting the past according to modern social and political ideological assumptions Fiction within this genre while concerned with the past at the level of content is additionally concerned with present views of that historical past because of the future to which it is moving Specific areas of discussion include the identification of a new sub genre Living history fiction stories of Joan of Arc historical fiction featuring agentic females the very popular Scholastic Press historical journal series fictions of war and historical fiction featuring multicultural discourses Wilson observes specific traits in historical fiction written for children most notably how the notion of positive progress into the future is nuanced differently in this literature in which the concept of progress from the past is inextricably linked to the protagonist s potential for agency and the realization of subjectivity. The genre consistently manifests a concern with identity construction that in turn informs and influences how a metanarrative of positive progress is played out This book engages in a discussion of the functionality of the past within the genre and offers an interpretative frame for the sifting out of the present from the past in historical fiction for young readers Transmedia Practices in the Long Nineteenth Century Christina Meyer, Monika Pietrzak-Franger, 2022-02-23 This volume provides engaging accounts with transmedia practices in the long nineteenth century and offers model analyses of Victorian media e g theater advertising books games newspapers alongside the technological economic and cultural conditions under which they emerged in the Anglophone world By exploring engagement tactics and forms of audience participation the book affords insight into the role that social agents e.g. individual authors publishing houses theatre show producers lithograph companies toy manufacturers newspaper syndicates or advertisers played in the production distribution and consumption of Victorian media It considers such examples as Sherlock Holmes Kewpie Dolls media forms and practices such as cut outs popular lectures telephone conversations or early theater
