Cardiac Regeneration Ajit Magadum,Rajika Roy,Claudio de Lucia,2023-04-24 PC Magazine ,2008 Digitization in the Real World Kwong Bor Ng,Jason Kucsma,2010 The 34 papers presented in this book represent our best effort to present a diverse and comprehensive overview of key issues in the management and realization of digitization projects This is above all a book written by practitioners for practitioners who together recognize the critical needs and goals in digitization in our industry P x xi Reframing Photography Rebekah Modrak,Bill Anthes,2011 In an accessible yet complex way Rebekah Modrak and Bill Anthes explore photographic theory history and technique to bring photographic education up to date with contemporary photographic practice Forensic Document Examination Jane Lewis,2014-01-31 Forensic Document Examination enlightens forensic document examiners forensic investigators attorneys and others using the services of forensic document examiners with the basic principles and current trends in the area Standards and methodologies apply now which were non existent 20 years ago Instrumentation has moved beyond the microscope and the magnifying glass to digital cameras digital microscopes video spectral comparators electrostatic detection devices for the development of indented writing on paper scanners and software programs like Write On 2 0 and Photoshop Covers basic principles and methodologies used in forensic document examination Contains state of the art techniques and new trends Includes research over the last ten years and describes the future direction of forensic document examination Improving image quality in multi-channel printing - multilevel halftoning, color separation and graininess characterization Paula Žitinski Elías,2017-03-13 Color printing is traditionally achieved by separating an input image into four channels CMYK and binarizing them using halftoning algorithms in order to designate the locations of ink droplet placement Multi channel printing means a reproduction that employs additional inks other than these four in order to augment the color gamut scope of reproducible colors and reduce undesirable ink droplet visibility so called graininess One aim of this dissertation has been to characterize a print setup in which both the primary inks CMYK and their light versions are used The presented approach groups the inks forming subsets each representing a channel that is reproduced with multiple inks To halftone the separated channels in the present methodology a specific multilevel halftoning algorithm is employed halftoning each channel to multiple levels This algorithm performs the binarization from the ink subsets to each separate colorant Consequently the print characterization complexity remains unaltered when employing the light inks avoiding the normal increase in computational complexity the one to many mapping problem and the increase in the number of training samples The results show that the reproduction is visually improved in terms of graininess and detail enhancement The secondary color inks RGB are added in multi channel printing to increase the color gamut Utilizing them however potentially increases the perceived graininess Moreover employing the primary secondary and light inks means a color separation from a three channel CIELAB space into a multi channel colorant space resulting in colorimetric redundancy in which multiple ink combinations can reproduce the same target color To address this a proposed cost function is incorporated in the color separation approach weighting selected factors that influence the reproduced image quality i.e graininess and color accuracy in order to select the optimal ink combination The perceived graininess is modeled by employing S CIELAB a spatial low pass filtering mimicking the human visual system By applying the filtering to a large dataset a generalized prediction that quantifies the perceived graininess is carried out and incorporated as a criterion in the color separation Consequently the presented research increases the understanding of color reproduction and image quality in multi channel printing provides concrete solutions to challenges in the practical implementation and rises the possibilities to fully utilize the potential in multi channel printing for superior image quality

Plant Stress - A Threat to Food Security Jagna Chmielowska-Bąk, Yuriy E. Kolupaev, Yaroslav B. Blume, 2025-08-19 The adverse effects of abiotic stresses on plants including crops is a growing and pressing problem across the globe The topic is particularly timely nowadays due to climate change and associated weather extremes such as heat waves drought flooding and heavy precipitation In addition the yield and quality of crop plants is affected by general global change including man made factors such as novel xenobiotics or change of land use Fortunately plants can detect unfavorable conditions and adjust to environmental changes The cellular and developmental plasticity of plants enables them to adapt to changing conditions and leads to the improvement of their productivity under sub optimal environmental conditions Gaining better insight into plant responses to abiotic stresses is crucial to develop methods for enhanced crop production and elaborate strategies designed to improve global food security Campus Technology, 2008
