Ethiopian Journal of Education ,2005 Secondary Education in Ethiopia Rajendra Joshi,Adriaan Verspoor,2012-11-01
This book discusses reforms that should be undertaken in secondary education to support Ethiopia s transition from a low to middle income economy The most critical reform identified is the introduction of a flexible curriculum that serves the needs of all students including those who may not pursue higher education Ethiopia Observer ,1964 Includes special issues

The Agriculture of Ethiopia ,1961 Area Handbook for Ethiopia American University (Washington, D.C.). Foreign Areas Studies Division,1964 Science Education in Context Richard K. Coll,Neil Taylor,2019-02-18 This book presents an international perspective of the influence of educational context on science education The focus is on the interactions between curriculum development and implementation particularly in non Western and non English speaking contexts i e outside the UK USA Australia NZ etc An important and distinguishing feature of the book is that it draws upon the experiences and research from local experts from an extremely diverse cohort across the world 26 countries in total The book addresses topics such as curriculum development research or evaluation of an implemented curriculum discussion of pressures driving curriculum reform or implementation of new curricula e g technology or environmental education the influence of political cultural societal or religious mores on education governmental or ministerial drives for curriculum reform economic or other pressures driving curriculum reform the influence of external assessment regimes on curriculum and so on Paperbound Books in Print ,1982 Natural Science Education, Indigenous Knowledge, and Sustainable Development in Rural and Urban Schools in Kenya Darren M. O'Hern,Yoshiko Nozaki,2014-05-05 Through a multi sited qualitative study of three Kenyan secondary schools in rural Taita Hills and urban Nairobi the volume explores the ways the dichotomy between Western and indigenous knowledge operates in Kenyan education In particular it examines views on natural sciences expressed by the students teachers the state s curricula documents and schools exam oriented pedagogical approaches O Hern and Nozaki question state and local education policies and practices as they relate to natural science subjects such as agriculture biology and geography and their dismissal of indigenous knowledge about environment nature and sustainable development They suggest the need to develop critical postcolonial curriculum policies and practices of science education to overcome knowledge oriented binaries emphasize sustainable development and address the problems of inequality the center and periphery divide and social cultural and environmental injustices in Kenya and by implication elsewhere In an era of environmental crisis and devastation education that supports sustainability and survival of our planet is needed Within a broader sociopolitical context of post colonialism and globalization this volume points out possibilities and challenges to achieve such an education The authors propose a critical postcolonial approach that acknowledges the contextual and situational production of all knowledge and that de dichotomizes indigenous from Western scientific knowledge Eric Rico Gutstein Professor Curriculum and Instruction University of Illinois at Chicago USA Thinking

Outside the Box Eva Poluha, 2016-01-28 This book sets out with the question why Ethiopia a country with one of the oldest still existing state formations in the world and a farming population that has domesticated a number of indigenous food products including coffee oilseeds and Eragrostis teff remains one of the poorest in the world To answer this question the authors review the history of Ethiopia from the earliest centuries A D until the 21st century dispelling a number of prevalent myths in the process The book covers topics such as ethnicity a hot issue in todays Ethiopian politics international relations with especially Britain and Italy and the countrys lack of technical and economic progress A survey of the current situation in Ethiopia sets the scene for comparisons with other countries An examination of the history of the West illustrates how the autonomy of intellectual inquiry could promote a spiral of knowledge pave the way for the Industrial Revolution and allow western countries to attain the highest standard of living in the world A review of some East Asian countries Japan South Korea and Taiwan exemplifies how they could catch up with the West Against the backdrop of these studies the authors find the basic causes for Ethiopias poverty to be missed or messed up opportunities to adopt available scientific knowledge and technology Premising that a decent living standard a catch up should be the only reasonable goal also for Ethiopian citizens the authors propose that the country must emphasize promotion of a knowledge and information rather than focusing numbers of school children and schools and of b entrepreneurship in all economic sectors To boost these requirements successfully the authors argue that all involved in the present development agenda need to think outside the box and reassess at least two common assumptions about Ethiopias future namely that only heavy handed state guidance can bring about rapid development and that peasants and pastoralists are ignorant and must be told what to do

On Results of the Reform in Ethiopia's Language and Education Policies Catherine Griefenow-Mewis, 2009 This publication reflects the results of the Ethiopian education reform as well as the exceptional efforts that multiethnic Ethiopia undertakes in order to cope with the challenges arising from the population explosion More than 55 per cent of the 77 million Ethiopians are under the age of 18 years The great social and political changes started in Ethiopia at the beginning of the 1990s have resulted in the substitution of the educational system based on Amharic and English by one which uses a multilingual approach According to the Ministry of Education 22 out of the 84 languages spoken in Ethiopia are now used as media of instruction in primary schools The book presents the lectures delivered at the workshop On the Results of the Reform in Ethiopia s Language and Education Policy held at Addis Ababa University in April 2006 by Ethiopian education experts and a German research team Their contribution has facilitated a subsumption into the historical context and has given insight into the analyses of the use of 8 Ethiopian languages in primary schools in different regions of the country

Education in Ethiopia Tekeste Negash, 2006 The main focus of the study is the deepening crisis of the Ethiopian education system This study reconstructs the growth of the crisis of the sector during the last four decades It then discusses the implications of the crisis in terms of communication breakdown absence of analytical capacity at system level the fragmentation of society loss of political legitimacy and perpetuation of authoritarian power Although the education sector has greatly expanded its impact on poverty alleviation has so far been insignificant The poverty landscape has changed to the worse during the last fifty years This is largely due to the fact that the Ethiopian education system is based on false premises At the center of the crisis is the use of English as medium of instruction The proficiency in English is so low that its continued use as a medium of instruction can only lead to the collapse of the education system The study argues that it is only through language readily understood and practiced that collective life and the world can be interpreted in an integrated manner The replacement of English by Ethiopian languages all the way from the primary to tertiary levels is one of the factors that could strengthen the survival potential of the Ethiopian political community The study is relevant for policy makers and students of development studies on the role of education in social change in Africa south of the Sahara
