Ending Aging Aubrey de Grey, Michael Rae, 2024-05-01 Ending Aging guides the reader through a maze of advances in molecular and cellular biology that could lead to anti aging therapies Dr Judy Illes Nature Nearly all scientists who study the biology of aging agree that we will someday be able to substantially slow down the aging process extending our productive youthful lives Dr Aubrey de Grey is perhaps the most bullish of all such researchers As has been reported in media outlets ranging from 60 Minutes to The New York Times Dr de Grey believes that the key biomedical technology required to eliminate aging derived debilitation and death entirely technology that would not only slow but periodically reverse age related physiological decay leaving us biologically young into an indefinite future is now within reach In Ending Aging Dr de Grey and his research assistant Michael Rae describe the details of this biotechnology They explain that the aging of the human body just like the aging of man made machines results from an accumulation of various types of damage As with man made machines this damage can periodically be repaired leading to indefinite extension of the machine s fully functional lifetime just as is routinely done with classic cars We already know what types of damage accumulate in the human body and we are moving rapidly toward the comprehensive development of technologies to remove that damage By demystifying aging and its postponement for the nonspecialist reader de Grey and Rae systematically dismantle the fatalist presumption that aging will forever defeat the efforts of medical science The authors explore the nitty gritty of how we age and posit an audacious blueprint for cheating the reaper Janet Cromley Los Angeles Times
