A journal article review is a common assignment in college and graduate school. Reviewing journal articles is an important assignment on its own or as part of a much larger research paper. Typically, instructors will give you guidelines on the type of journal articles to review and what to include, but general APA journal article reviews will follow certain conventions. Articles should be from peer-reviewed or scholarly journals and relate to the field of study that the class discusses.

Instructions

1. 1 Search the library's online databases, such as EbscoHost and others, to find scholarly or peer-reviewed articles. You can also look in indexes available at the library.
2. 2 Read the entire article. Many journal articles can be quite complex and use complicated wording and statistics. You may need to read the article a few times before you get a full grasp of it.
3. 3 Write a citation for the journal article at the top of the review. The citation should follow the American Psychological Association's style--consult the APA-style manual or the link under Resources for citation information. You will need the title of the article, the journal where the article is published, the volume and issue number, publication date, author's name and page numbers for the article.
4. 4 Write a summary of the article. This should be one to three paragraphs, depending on the length of the article. Include the purpose for the article, how research was conducted, the results and other pertinent information from the article.
5. 5 Discuss the meaning or implication of the results of the study that the article is about. This should be one to two paragraphs. This is where you offer your opinion on the article. Discuss any flaws with the article, how you think it could have been better and what you think it all means.
6. 6 Write one paragraph discussing how the author could expand on the results, what the information means in the big picture, what future research should focus on or how future research could move the topic forward. Discuss how knowledge in the area could be expanded.
7. 7 Cite any direct quotes or paraphrases from the article. Use the author's name, the year of publication and the page number (for quotes) in the in-text citation. Refer to the link in the Resources section to do this correctly.

How To Do Research Jane F. Gaultney, Hannah D. Peach, 2015-12-17 Designed to help students make the leap from learning about research to doing research this manual provides an easy to understand walkthrough of the entire research process from selecting a topic and conducting a literature review through presenting an APA style paper or presentation. All of the 15 cross disciplinary labs included are appropriate for use in the social behavioral and health sciences and follow a consistent format: objective description of a journal article, canned data examples of what output should look like, pointers on interpreting the output and a suggested activity for those who wish to collect their own data.

Guide to Writing Empirical Papers, Theses, and Dissertations G. David Garson, 2001-11-21 Describes the quantitative research process: framing analytical questions, developing a comprehensive outline, providing a roadmap for the reader and accessing indispensable computer and program tools. Supplies end of chapter checklists, extensive examples and bibliographies.

The St. Martin's Guide to Writing Rise B. Axelrod, Charles R. Cooper, 2010-01-26 This textbook provides instruction in college level rhetoric and writing. It offers readings, a research manual, a handbook and supports a range of approaches to teaching and learning including collaboration, visual rhetoric, personal writing, writing about literature, writing in the community and the workplace, field research, portfolios, oral presentations, essay exams and ESL. It contains step by step guides to writing specific kinds of essays: remembering events, writing profiles, explaining a concept, finding common ground, arguing a position, proposing a solution, justifying an evaluation, speculating about causes and interpreting stories. Because so much college writing requires strong argumentation skills, four of the assignment chapters focus on argumentative writing and a separate strategies chapter covers theses, reasons and support, counterarguments and logical fallacies. Three full chapters on research give students useful strategies not only for conducting field, library and Internet research but also for evaluating sources, deciding whether to quote, paraphrase or summarize, avoiding plagiarism and documenting sources. The authors have included 39 readings by well known authors and various fresh voices including 12 students providing well written examples of the different types of essays and papers that students might be asked to complete.

From Inquiry to Academic Writing Stuart Greene, April Lidinsky, 2011-07-06 Explains academic writing as a clear step by step process that one can use in any college course.

Professional Writing in Speech Language Pathology and Audiology

Fourth Edition is an excellent resource for students of communication sciences and disorders. It is often used as a textbook for courses in professional writing, clinical methods, and professional issues. Throughout the text, the authors use anecdotal material, self-help questions, and humor to illustrate that learning to be a better professional writer does not require drudgery. The authors cover a spectrum of subjects related to professional writing, including rules of writing, review of grammar, spelling, punctuation, semantics, and sentence structure; evidence-based writing and citing sources; ethics related to professional writing; writing diagnostic and clinical reports; and writing for professional career advancement. New to the Fourth Edition: More exercises throughout the book; Incorporates APA 7th edition style; Reorganized for a greater flow of information; Combined the chapters on Evidence-Based Writing and Ethics of Professional Writing; Combined the chapters on Referencing Resources and Internet Resources. Book now ends with chapter 8 on professional presentations. Expansion of English mechanics underlying syntax. Inclusion of the 2023 revised version of the ASHA Code of Ethics. Key Features: Exercises in each chapter; Numerous samples including Institutional Review Board Research Review Form, Authorization of Release of Information Form, Journal Article Critique, Diagnostic Reports and Protocol Worksheets, Therapy Goals and Progress Reports, Types of Professional Correspondence, Presentation Slides, Resumes, Disclaimer. Please note that ancillary content such as exercises and sample presentations are not included as in the original print version of this work.
