

Autobiography

My name is Michael Smith and I was born on the 30th of August, 1967 in Long Beach, California. My parents were Eddie Smith and Joan Smith. Both of my parents are deceased. My mom died at the age of 57 in 1994 from lung cancer which was the result of smoking her whole lifetime. My father died at the age of 69 in 2006 from a massive heart attack, which was also the likely result from a lifetime of smoking. Fortunately I have been smart enough to avoid that bad habit.

My early childhood was a typical middle class environment circa the 1960's. My dad worked for Simpson Buick as a parts salesman and my mom was a stay at home mother. I had a happy, normal childhood as an only child, leaving me somewhat spoiled. My mom and dad divorced when I was eight years old and both remarried within a year or so of the divorce. My dad remained married to my stepmom Bev until his death. My mom would marry two more times. My first stepdad Vince became a big part of my life and I maintained close contact with him until his death in 2006, two days after my real dad died. Yes, that was a very bad week, losing both of my dads.

Growing up with split parents was not especially difficult since each of my parents kept me out of their divorce and they got along fine at events where both of them were present. I lived with my mom until I was 16 and in high school. By my sophomore year in high school I had begun to hang around with friends that got me into a lot of trouble with a number of things including smoking pot and drinking. I was rapidly heading down a negative path, but was fortunate enough to notice it before I had done any serious damage. I moved in with my dad and changed high schools and friends.

Memoir Ethics Mike W. Martin, 2016-02-10 Memoir Ethics Good Lives and the Virtues is a philosophical study of moral themes in memoirs exploring how memoirists present and defend perspectives on good lives It pays particular attention to the interplay of the virtues including their interplay with additional non moral types of values in good lives More generally it explores the relevance of memoir to moral philosophy and in turn how moral philosophy enters into elucidating and critiquing memoirs Memoirs are understood as non fiction narratives written by oneself and significantly about oneself including full life autobiographies Mike W Martin explores perspectives on good lives as they are expressed in memoirs written by both philosophers and non philosophers Most of the chapters focus on one of the generic aspects of good lives moral goodness authenticity meaningfulness happiness health and self fulfillment The book clarifies how memoirists often employ life based arguments in defending value perspectives and it includes a discussion of whether philosophers memoirs are distinctive compared to memoirs by non philosophers and also compared to other forums for doing philosophy Martin highlights some parallels between features of good lives and features of memoirs for example both can be said to be meaningful authentic and having virtues such as wisdom and courage Demonstrating how memoirs are rich resources in exploring the good lives and exploring ways in which philosophical ethics provide tools for interpreting memoirs Memoir Ethics will be of interest to a broad audience of students scholars and general readers including anyone interested in ethics or the connections between literature and philosophy

Chorley: Autobiography, Memoir, and Letters Henry Fothergill Chorley, 1873 History of Psychology in Autobiography Leendert P. Mos, 2009-06-12 Since the 17th century autobiography has an honorable place in the study of history In 1930 the preeminent historian of psychology Edwin Boring writes that a science separated from its history lacks direction and promises a future of uncertain importance To understand what psychology is and what it is becoming the autobiographies of famous psychologists is history at it best Here we find model inquirers of the science who offer a personalized account of themselves and their vocation in the context of the history of the science What is characteristic of many of those who have contributed to an alternate vision of psychological science is that they never considered themselves or were considered by others as belonging to the mainstream of the discipline In considering an alternative history of psychology in autobiography the editor invited contributors whose research and writings have pushed the discipline in other directions pushed its limits and whose scholarship finds its philosophical framework outside the discipline altogether If these contributors may not be model inquirers their scholarship is very much a matter of consequence for those who wish to understand psychology Among the outliers included here are those who devoted themselves to the writing of psychology examining its history theories research and professional practices and who enthusiastically embraced over the course of their lives the discipline as a human science Their influence has been subtle as has been their appeal to many students who affection for the discipline finds its promise in a discerning self awareness and a critical understanding of others and their worlds This volume is not simply a collection of personal chronologies which might inspire or lend appreciation to a younger generation Our contributors write from their personal and professional experience of course but they write of their thinking and understanding of the psyche as an aspect of human life of psychology as an academic form of human sciences inquiry and so bring to bear their scientific and philosophical imagination to their personal challenges in their chosen vocation as psychologists Our contributors cover a broad swath of the second half of the 20th century the century of psychology Nurturing the discipline from within various philosophical social political and cultural roots their autobiographies exemplify marginality if not alienation from the mainstream even as their professional and personal lives give expression to engaged scholarship commitment to vocation and straightforwardly and reflectively a love of the heart From Germany Carl Graumann from France Erika Apfelbaum from Canada David Bakan and Kurt Danziger and from the United States Amedeo Giorgi Robert Rieber and Joseph Rychlak relate their lives to the larger contexts of our times Their personal stories are an integral part of the historiography of our discipline Indeed a contribution to historiography of our discipline is constituted in their autobiographical self presentations for their writings attest as much to their lives as model inquirers as they do to the possibility of psychology as a human science
