Optics for Engineers Charles A. DiMarzio, 2024-03-13 This textbook provides an accessible introduction to the fundamentals of geometric and physical optics as they relate to practical problems encountered by engineers and researchers in designing and analyzing optical systems In this updated edition the author focuses on topics that are critical to understanding how the basic principles of optics affect design decisions In addition to information on breadboarding experiments and prototypes the new edition also expands its coverage of diffraction and includes numerous complete examples and practical reminders Professor Charles A DiMarzio is an associate professor in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering the Department of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering and the Department of Bioengineering at Northeastern University in Boston Massachusetts He spent 14 years at Raytheon Company s Electro Optics Systems Laboratory in coherent laser radar for air safety and meteorology Among other projects there he worked on an airborne laser radar flown on the Galileo II to monitor airflow related to severe storms pollution and wind energy and another laser radar to characterize the wake vortices of landing aircraft His current research in biomedical optics focuses on microscopy including coherent imaging structured illumination and multi modal imaging He is also a founding member of Gordon CenSSIS the Gordon Center for Subsurface Sensing and Imaging Systems Titan Ingo Müller-Wodarg, Caitlin A. Griffith, Emmanuel Lellouch, Thomas E. Cravens, 2014-02-24 This comprehensive reference and guide examines the processes that shape the atmosphere and surface of Titan Saturn s largest moon Cognitive Wireless Networks Frank H. P. Fitzek, Marcos D. Katz, 2007-09-07 This book advocates the idea of breaking up the cellular communication architecture by introducing cooperative strategies among wireless devices through cognitive wireless networking It details the cooperative and cognitive aspects for future wireless communication networks Coverage includes social and biological inspired behavior applied to wireless networks peer to peer networking cooperative networks and spectrum sensing and management Jean Rhys at "World's End" Mary Lou Emery, 2014-01-30 The Caribbean Islands have long been an uneasy meeting place among indigenous peoples white European colonists and black slave populations Tense oppositions in Caribbean culture colonial vs native white vs black male conqueror vs female subject supply powerful themes and spark complex narrative experiments in the fiction of Dominica born novelist Jean Rhys In this pathfinding study Mary Lou Emery focuses on Rhys s handling of these oppositions using a Caribbean cultural perspective to replace the mainly European aesthetic moral and psychological standards that have served to misread and sometimes devalue Rhys s writing Emery considers all five Rhys novels beginning with Wide Sargasso Sea as the most explicitly Caribbean in its setting in its participation in the culminating decades of a West Indian literary naissance and most importantly in its subversive transformation of European concepts of character From a sociocultural perspective she argues persuasively that the earlier novels Voyage in the Dark Quartet After Leaving Mr Mackenzie and Good Morning Midnight should be read as emergent Caribbean fiction written in tense dialogue with

European modernism Building on this thesis she reveals how the apparent passivity masochism or silence of Rhys's female protagonists results from their doubly marginalized status as women and as subject peoples Also she explores how Rhys's women seek out alternative identities in dreamed of magically realized or chosen communities These discoveries offer important insights on literary modernism Caribbean fiction and the formation of female identity Jean Peters Michelangelo Capua, 2024-03-05 From 1947 to 1955 Jean Peters 1926-2000 appeared in films opposite such Hollywood leading men as Tyrone Power Marlon Brando Burt Lancaster Spencer Tracy Richard Widmark and Robert Wagner as well as international stars including Louis Jourdan and Rossano Brazzi Despite her talent and status Peters eschewed the star studded lifestyle of 1950s Hollywood turning down roles that were too sexy and refusing to socialize with other actors discuss her private life in the press or lead the glamorous lifestyle often associated with her peers She was seen as a mystery to reporters who constantly tried to discover tidbits about her personal life In 1957 her marriage to Howard Hughes led to her retirement from acting and her further withdrawal from social events in Hollywood Instead she shifted her attention to charitable work arts and crafts and university studies in psychology and anthropology Her status as an enigma only grew as she agreed never to speak of her marriage with Hughes After her divorce however Peters attempted to resume her acting career in television but never regained her previous level of stardom Jean Peters Hollywood's Mystery Girl grants an in depth analysis of each of her nineteen films and is enriched by several high quality photographs from the author's personal collection ENC Focus, 1995 Jean Stafford Charlotte Margolis Goodman, 2013-11-04 One of America's best short story writers and author of three fine novels Boston Adventure 1944 The Mountain Lion 1947 and The Catherine Wheel 1952 Jean Stafford has been rediscovered by another generation of readers and scholars Although her novels and her Pulitzer Prize winning short stories were widely read in the 1940s and 1950s her fiction has received less critical attention than that of other distinguished contemporary American women writers such as Carson McCullers Flannery O'Connor and Eudora Welty In this literary biography Charlotte M Goodman traces the life of the brilliant yet troubled Jean Stafford and reassesses her importance Drawing on a wealth of original material Goodman describes the vital connections between Stafford's life and her fiction She discusses Stafford's difficult family relationships her tempestuous first marriage to the poet Robert Lowell her unresolved conflicts about gender roles her alcoholism and bouts with depression and her amazing ability to transform the chaotic details of her life into elegant works of fiction These wonderfully crafted works offer insightful portraits of alienated and isolated characters most of whom exemplify not only human estrangement in the modern world but also the special difficulties of girls and women who refuse to play traditional roles Goodman locates Jean Stafford within the literary world of the 1940s and 1950s In her own right and through her marriages to Robert Lowell Life magazine editor Oliver Jensen and journalist A J Liebling Stafford associated with many of the major literary figures of her day including the Southern Fugitives the New York intellectual coterie and writers for the New Yorker to which she regularly contributed short stories Goodman also describes Stafford's sustaining friendships with other women writers such as Evelyn Scott and Caroline Gordon and with her New Yorker editor Katharine S White. This highly readable biography will appeal to a wide audience interested in twentieth century literature and the writing of women's lives. Catalog Sears, Roebuck and Company, 1953

Physics of Gravitating Systems I A.M. Fridman, V.L. Polyachenko, 2012-12-06 It would seem that any specialist in plasma physics studying a medium in which the interaction between particles is as distance dependent as the interaction between stars and other gravitating masses would assert that the role of collective effects in the dynamics of gravitating systems must be decisive. However among astronomers this point of view has been recognized only very recently. So comparatively recently serious consideration has been devoted to theories of galactic spiral structure in which the dominant role is played by the orbital properties of individual stars rather than collective effects. In this connection we would like to draw the reader's attention to a difference in the scientific traditions of plasma physicists and astronomers whereby the former have explained the delay of the onset of controlled thermonuclear fusion by the intrigues of collective processes in the plasma while many a generation of astronomers were calculating star motions, solar and lunar eclipses and a number of other fine effects for many years ahead by making excellent use of only the laws of Newtonian mechanics. Therefore for an astronomer it is perhaps not easy to agree with the fact that the evolution of stellar systems is controlled mainly by collective effects and the habitual methods of theoretical mechanics. III astronomy must make way for the method of self-consistent fields.

The Field Dog Stud Book, 1901 Carlyle and Jean Paul: Their Spiritual Optics J.P. Vijn, 1982-01-01 It has always been thought difficult if not impossible to define what the philosophy of Carlyle was. Ever since the publication of Sartor Resartus in 1833-1834 the view that Carlyle had a theistic conception of the universe has been defended as well as opposed. At a time therefore when Carlyle's work as a whole is being reappraised his philosophy should first and foremost be dealt with. Carlyle's life philosophy is based on the inner experience of a process of conversion which set in with an incident that occurred to him at Leith Walk, Edinburgh. This study which settles the old question of the date of the incident demonstrates that the inner struggle the dynamics of which are described most fully in Sartor is analogous to the Jungian process of individuation. For the first time in critical literature the basic ideas of Carlyle's philosophy are thus linked to depth psychology and shown to be analogous to the fundamental concepts of Analytical Psychology. In recent criticism it has been asserted that the crisis recorded in Sartor is akin to the crisis of doubt said to underlie Jean Paul's Rede des todten Christus 1796 which is probably the first poetic expression of nihilism in European literature and has become a classic. Apart from demonstrating that in the last fifty years at least the Rede has erroneously been interpreted as a dream of annihilation, this book invalidates the view of Jean Paul as victim of the skepticism of his age and argues that contrary to what is usually maintained the Rede is not the document of a crisis but of a belief which had become antiquated and obsolete for Carlyle.
