International Arbitration: Law and Practice in Switzerland Gabrielle Kaufmann-Kohler, Antonio Rigozzi, 2015-10-22
This book expounds the theory of international arbitration law. It explains in easily accessible terms all the fundamentals of arbitration from separability of the arbitration agreement to competence-competence, over procedural autonomy, finality of the award and many other concepts. It does so with a focus on international arbitration law and jurisprudence in Switzerland, a global leader in the field. With a broader reach than a commentary of Chapter 12 of the Swiss Private International Law Act, the discussion contains numerous references to comparative law and its developments in addition to an extensive review of the practice of international tribunals. Written by two well-known specialists, Professor Kaufmann-Kohler being one of the leading arbitrators worldwide and Professor Rigozzi one of the foremost experts in sports arbitration, the work reflects many years of experience in managing arbitral proceedings involving commercial investment and sports disputes. This expertise is the basis for the solutions proposed to resolve the many practical issues that may arise in the course of an arbitration. It also informs the discussion of the arbitration rules addressed in the book from the ICC Arbitration Rules to the Swiss Rules of International Arbitration, the CAS Code and the UNCITRAL Rules. While the book covers commercial and sports arbitrations primarily, it also applies to investment arbitrations conducted under rules other than the ICSID framework.

Fourth City Doran Larson, 2014-02-01
At 2.26 million incarcerated Americans, not only outnumber the nation's fourth largest city, they make up a national constituency bound by a shared condition. Fourth City: Essays from the Prison in America presents more than seventy essays from twenty-seven states written by incarcerated Americans chronicling their experience inside. In essays as moving as they are eloquent, the authors speak out against a national prison complex that fails so badly at the task of rehabilitation that 60% of the 650,000 Americans released each year return to prison. These essays document the authors' efforts at self-help, the institutional resistance such efforts meet at nearly every turn, and the impact in money and lives that this resistance has on the public. Directly confronting the images of prisons and prisoners manufactured by popular media, so-called reality TV, and for-profit local and national news sources, Fourth City recognizes American prisoners as our primary frontline witnesses to the dysfunction of the largest prison system on earth. Filled with deeply personal stories of coping, survival, resistance, and transformation, Fourth City should be read by every American who believes that law should achieve order in the cause of justice rather than at its cost.

Public Services and Financial Austerity R. Latham, M. Prowle, 2011-12-12
The authors suggest that some of the problems of the public sector are self-inflicted and that current policies may only deliver partial success at a price we cannot afford. It proposes a radical alternative and discusses practical ways it could be implemented. It also explores the threats and opportunities that such an approach might face.

Perna, Joni E. Finney, 2014-05-01 How state leadership determines effective higher education attainment Although the federal government invests substantial resources into student financial aid states have the primary responsibility for policies that raise overall higher educational attainment and improve equity across groups The importance of understanding how states may accomplish these goals has never been greater as educational attainment is increasingly required for economic and social well being of individuals and society Drawing on data collected from case studies of the relationship between public policy and higher education performance in five states Georgia Illinois Maryland Texas and Washington The Attainment Agenda offers a framework for understanding how state public policy can effectively promote educational attainment Laura W Perna and Joni E Finney argue that there is no silver bullet to improve higher education attainment Instead achieving the required levels of attainment demands a comprehensive approach State leaders must consider how performance in one area such as degree completion is connected to performance in other areas such as preparation or affordability how particular policies interact to produce expected and unexpected outcomes and how policy approaches must be adapted to reflect their particular context The authors call for greater attention to the state role in providing policy leadership to advance a cohesive public agenda for higher education and adopting public policies that not only increase the demand for and supply of higher education but also level the playing field for higher educational opportunity The insights offered in The Attainment Agenda have important implications for public policymakers college and university leaders and educational researchers interested in ensuring sustained higher education attainment Digital
