Structures for Nuclear Facilities M.Y.H. Bangash, 2011-08-05 This book provides a general introduction to the topic of buildings for resistance to the effects of abnormal loadings The structural design requirements for nuclear facilities are very unique In no other structural system are extreme loads such as tornadoes missile and loud interaction earthquake effects typical in excess of any recorded historical data at a site and postulated system accident at very low probability range explicitly considered in design It covers the whole spectrum of extreme load which has to be considered in the structural design of nuclear facilities and reactor buildings the safety criteria the structural design the analysis of containment Test case studies are given in a comprehensive treatment Each major section contains a full explanation which allows the book to be used by students and practicing engineers particularly those facing formidable task of having to design complicated building structures with unusual boundary conditions Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1993 Heavy Metals Release in Soils H. Magdi Selim, Donald L. Sparks, 2001-06-15 Understanding the mechanisms associated with metal complexes and the sequestering metal contaminants in the environment is essential for effective remediation Heavy Metal Release in Soils describes and quantifies desorption release kinetics and dissolution reactions in the release of heavy metals from soil The book focuses on New techniques microscopic surface techniques NMR and electrophoresis XAFS SFM and time resolved ATR FTIR Theoretical analysis and kinetic approaches adsorption desorption hysteresis competitive sorption and transport multi component models speciation kinetics isotherms and soil and metal parameters and the role of soil properties on transport Applications arsenic speciation and mobility in contaminated soils modeling activity of Cd Zn and Cu in contaminated soils and in situ chemical immobilization A timely addition to the literature this book highlights the desorption release mechanisms for the purpose of resolving remediation dilemmas in contaminated environments It gives you the added advantage of case studies at both the microscopic and macroscopic scales and provides both experimental and numerical investigations With contributions from an international panel of authors Heavy Metals Release in Soils fills a gap in the current literature concerned with subsurface contaminant fate and transport processes Task 7: ADPAC User's Manual E. J. Hall, 1996 The overall objective of this study was to develop a 3 D numerical analysis for compressor casing treatment flowfields The current version of the computer code resulting from this study is referred to as ADPAC Advanced Ducted Propfan Analysis Codes Version 7 This report is intended to serve as a computer program user's manual for the ADPAC code developed under Tasks 6 and 7 of the NASA Contract The ADPAC program is based on a flexible multiple block grid discretization scheme permitting coupled 2 D 3 D mesh block solutions with application to a wide variety of geometries Aerodynamic calculations are based on a four stage Runge Kutta time marching finite volume solution technique with added numerical dissipation Steady flow predictions are accelerated by a multigrid procedure An iterative implicit algorithm is available for rapid time dependent flow calculations and an advanced two equation turbulence model is incorporated to predict complex turbulent flows The consolidated code generated during this study is capable of executing in either a serial or parallel computing mode from a single source code Numerous examples are given in the form of test cases to demonstrate the utility of this approach for predicting the aerodynamics of modern turbomachinery configurations
