Clark, 2007-01-01 Compass of Society rethinks the French route to a conception of commercial society in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Henry C Clark finds that the development of market liberalism far from being a narrow and abstract ideological episode was part of a broad gauged attempt to address a number of perceived problems generic to Europe and particular to France during this period In the end he offers a neo Tocquevillian account of a topic which Tocqueville himself notoriously underemphasized namely the emergence of elements of a modern economy in eighteenth century France and the place this development had in explaining the failure of the Old
