Emerging Digital Spaces in Contemporary Society Phillip Kalantzis-Cope, Karim Gherab-Martin, 2010-12-08

Analyzing the relationship between digital technologies and society this book explores a wide range of complex social issues emerging in a new digital space It examines both the vexing dilemmas with a critical eye as well as prompting readers to think constructively and strategically about exciting possibilities The Future of the Academic Journal Bill Cope, Angus Phillips, 2014-07-01

The world of the academic journal continues to be one of radical change A follow up volume to the first edition of The Future of the Academic Journal this book is a significant contribution to the debates around the future of journals publishing The book takes an international perspective and looks ahead at how the industry will continue to develop over the next few years With contributions from leading academics and industry professionals the book provides a reliable and impartial view of this fast changing area The book includes various discussions on the future of journals including the influence of business models and the growth of journals publishing open access and academic libraries as well as journals published in Asia Africa and South America Looks at a fast moving and vital area for academics and publishers Contains contributions from leading international figures from universities and publishers Mobile (for) Development Marine Al Dahdah, 2022-09-15

With their widespread use in the Global South mobile phones are attracting growing interest from international aid actors and local authorities alike who are positioning mobile technology as a growth driver and a solution to many social problems Initiated by giants of the digital industry these policies are reviving old questions about technological development the relationship between the market sector and States and the role of technology in the inequalities between the Global North and Global South Through a multi sided ethnography on maternal care in Ghana and India this Element provides a first hand look at initiatives that promise to improve poor women s health in the Global South through the use of mobile phones a field known as Mobile Health or mHealth Attentive to the way in which these technical objects modify power relations at both international and local levels this Element also discusses how mHealth transforms care practices and healthcare Being Digital Citizens Engin Isin, Professor of International Politics, Queen Mary University of London (QMUL) and University of London Institute in Paris (ULIP), Evelyn Ruppert, 2015-04-09

Developing a critical perspective on the challenges and possibilities presented by cyberspace this book explores where and how political subjects perform new rights and duties that govern themselves and others online Being Digital Citizens Engin Isin, Evelyn Ruppert, 2020-05-27

This book examines how citizens encounter and perform new sorts of rights duties opportunities and challenges through the Internet By disrupting prevailing understandings of citizenship and cyberspace the authors highlight the dynamic relationship between these two concepts This new and updated edition includes a new preface and a new chapter exploring digital citizens of the future The New Time and Space John Potts, 2015-09-15

In the networked age we are living with changed parameters of time and space Mobile networked communication fosters a form of virtual time and space which is super imposed onto territorial space Time is increasingly composed of interruptions and distractions as smartphone users are overwhelmed by messages

The Digital Ecosystem of Kenya Carolin Stötzel, 2024-09-26 The impact of the digital transformation on countries sustainable development is increasingly discussed in both theory and practice This multidisciplinary book analyzes the implications of digital technologies and services for governance structures and government action particularly in Kenya Using the emerging concept of digital ecosystems it uniquely combines digital development sustainability and governance research This book identifies factors characterizing digital ecosystems and challenges to their sustainable digital development e g lack of common understanding power asymmetries and dependencies of multi stakeholders For addressing these challenges it proposes coordination mechanisms including governance roles governance formats such as multi stakeholder partnerships as well as alternative solutions such as coordinative digital platforms These findings emphasize a deeper discussion around the digital transformation as a driving force and the global emphasis on partnerships if these are to foster and not impede sustainable development About the author Carolin Stötzel holds a PhD in Political Science focusing on digital policy and international cooperation She is an expert in digital transformation governance and sustainable development

Autobiographical Identities in Contemporary Arab Culture Valerie Anishchenkova, 2014-07-16 Over the last 40 years autobiography in Arab societies has moved away from exemplary life narratives and toward more unorthodox techniques such as erotic memoir writing postmodernist self fragmentation cinematographic self projection and blogging Valerie Anishchenkova argues that the Arabic autobiographical genre has evolved into a mobile unrestricted category arming authors with narrative tools to articulate their selfhood Reading works from Arab nations such as Egypt Iraq Morocco Syria and Lebanon Anishchenkova connects the century s rapid political and ideological developments to increasing autobiographical experimentation in Arabic works The immense scope of her study also forces consideration of film and online forms of self representation and offers a novel theoretical framework to these various modes of autobiographical cultural production

Carl Schmitt and The Buribunks Edwin Bikundo, Kieran Tranter, 2022-04-06 In 1918 a young Carl Schmitt published a short satirical fiction entitled The Buribunks He imagined a future society of beings who consistently wrote and disseminated their personal diaries Schmitt would go on to become the infamous philosopher of the exception and for a while the Crown Jurist of the Third Reich The Buribunks ironically for beings that lived only for self memorialisation has been mostly lost to history However the digital realm with its emphasis on the informatic traces generated by human doing and the continual interest in Schmitt s work to explain and criticise contemporary constellations of power suggests that The Buribunks is a text whose epoch has come This volume includes the first full translation into English of The Buribunks and a selection of critical essays on the text its meanings in the digital present its playing with and criticism of the literary form and its place within Schmitt s life and work The Buribunks and the essays provide a complex critical and provocative invitation to reimagine the relations between the human and their imprint and legacy within archives and repositories There is a fundamental exploration of what it means to be a being intensely aware of writing itself This is not just a volume for critical lawyers literary scholars and the Schmitt literati It is a volume that challenges a broad range of disciplines from philosophy to critical data studies to reflect on the digital present and its assembled and curated beings It is a volume that provides a set of fantastically located concepts images and histories that traverse ideas and practices play and politics power and possibility The Nature of Data Jenny Goldstein, Eric

Nost, 2022-10 When we look at some of the most pressing issues in environmental politics today it is hard to avoid data technologies Big data artificial intelligence and data dashboards all promise revolutionary advances in the speed and scale at which governments corporations conservationists and even individuals can respond to environmental challenges By bringing together scholars from geography anthropology science and technology studies and ecology The Nature of Data explores how the digital realm is a significant site in which environmental politics are waged This collection as a whole makes the argument that we cannot fully understand the current conjuncture in critical global environmental politics without understanding the role of data platforms devices standards and institutions In particular The Nature of Data addresses the contested practices of making and maintaining data infrastructure the imaginaries produced by data infrastructures the relations between state and civil society that data infrastructure reworks and the conditions under which technology can further socio ecological justice instead of re entrenching state and capitalist power This innovative volume presents some of the first research in this new but rapidly growing subfield that addresses the role of data infrastructures in critical environmental politics Design Knowledge Management System Santhosh Shekar, 2021-01-23 Every organization
