, 1890 All about Flowers Thomas J. Mickey, 2021-05-07 A nineteenth century entrepreneur's bold innovative marketing helped transform flower gardens into one of America's favorite hobbies There is much that is hard and productive of sorrow in this sin plagued world of ours and had we no flowers I believe existence would be hard to be borne So states a customer's 1881 letter one of thousands James Vick regularly received Vick's business selling flower seeds through the mail wasn't unique but it was wildly successful because he understood better than his rivals how to engage customers emotions He sold the love of flowers along with the flower seeds Vick was genuinely passionate about floriculture but he also pioneered what we now describe as integrated marketing He spent a mind boggling 100 000 per year on advertising mostly to women his target demographic he courted newspaper editors for free publicity his educational guides presaged today's content marketing he recruited social influencers to popularize neighborhood gardening clubs and he developed a visually rich communication and branding strategy to build customer loyalty and deflect their purchasing needs with purchasing desire

Knott, 2011-11-30 Forests have always been more than just their trees The forests in Michigan and similar forests in other Great Lakes states such as Wisconsin and Minnesota played a role in the American cultural imagination from the beginnings of European settlement in the early nineteenth century to the present Our relationships with those forests have been shaped by the cultural attitudes of the times and people have invested in them both moral and spiritual meanings

Author John Knott draws upon such works as Simon Schama's Landscape and Memory and Robert Pogue Harrison's Forests: The Shadow of Civilization in exploring ways in which our relationships with forests have been shaped using Michigan its history of settlement popular literature and forest management controversies as an exemplary case Knott looks at such well known figures as William Bradford James Fenimore Cooper John Muir John Burroughs and Teddy Roosevelt Ojibwa conceptions of the forest and natural world including how Longfellow mythologized them early explorer accounts and contemporary literature set in the Upper Peninsula including Jim Harrison's True North and Philip Caputo's Indian Country Two competing metaphors evolved over time Knott shows the forest as howling wilderness impeding the progress of civilization and in need of subjugation and the forest as temple or cathedral worthy of reverence and protection Imagining the Forest shows the origin and development of both
