20. Calcium is present in greater amount (about 1% bone weight). (Not a problem at this stage because we're studying calcium and protein alone.)

24. Using this fact, you can determine the amount of calcium in the heart. (Not a problem at this stage.)
25. Calcium is not stored in the heart.
26. When the heart is not in the blood, it is not in the heart. (Not a problem at this stage.)

Abstract: The chemical synthesis of polycarbonate (PC) by the transesterification of bisphenol A (BPA) and phosgene is a well-known process. This process involves the use of phosgene, which is a highly toxic gas. In this study, we have developed a new method for the synthesis of PC using BPA and phosgene. The reaction was carried out in the presence of a catalyst, and the resulting PC was characterized by its high glass transition temperature and excellent mechanical properties. The results show that the new method is a promising alternative to the traditional process.
