Sawlan, 1988 At the request of the U S Bureau of Land Management the Gold Creek OR 003 033 and Sperry Creek OR 003 035 Wilderness Study Areas comprising approximately 15 780 and 5 600 acres respectively were evaluated for mineral resources and mineral resource potential Throughout this report wilderness study area and study area refer to the combined 21 380 acres for which mineral surveys were requested The U S Geological Survey and the U S Bureau of Mines conducted geologic geochemical and geophysical surveys to assess the identified mineral resources known and mineral resource potential unknown of the study area Field work for this report was carried out in 1987 1988 and 1989      U.S. Geological Survey Bulletin ,1983      Geology of Oregon Elizabeth L. Resources in Education ,1974-07      Research in Education ,1974      From Terranes to Terrains Adam M. Booth, Anita L. Grunder, 2021-11-10 The eight field trips in this volume associated with GSA Connects 2021 held in Portland Oregon USA reflect the rich and varied geological legacy of the Pacific Northwest The western margin of North America has had a complex subduction and transform history throughout the Phanerozoic building a collage of terranes The terrain has been modified by Cenozoic sedimentation magmatism and faulting related to Cascadia subduction passage of the Yellowstone hot spot and north and westward propagation of the Basin and Range province The youngest flood basalt province on Earth also inundated the landscape while the mighty Columbia watershed kept pace with arc construction and funneled epic ice age floods from the craton to the coast Additional erosive processes such as landslides continue to shape this dynamic geological wonderland      The Columbia River Flood Basalt Province Stephen P. Reidel, Victor E. Camp, Martin E. Ross, John A. Wolff, Barton S. Martin, Terry L. Tolan, Ray E. Wells, 2013-09-13 The Miocene Columbia River flood basalt province covers 210 000 km<sup>2</sup> of the Pacific Northwest of the United States and forms part of a larger volcanic region that also includes contemporaneous silicic centers in northern Nevada the basaltic and time transgressive rhyolitic volcanic fields of the Snake River Plain and Yellowstone plateau and the High Lava Plains of central Oregon The Columbia River flood basalt province is accessible and well exposed making it one of the best studied flood basalt provinces worldwide and it serves as a model for understanding the stratigraphic development and petrogenesis of large igneous provinces through time This volume details our current knowledge of the stratigraphy and physical volcanology extent volume and age of the lava flows the tectonic setting and history of the province the petrogenesis of the lavas and hydrogeology of the basalt aquifers

Large Igneous Provinces John J. Mahoney, Millard F. Coffin, 1997-01-23 Published by the American Geophysical Union as part of the Geophysical Monograph Series Volume 100 Continental flood basalts volcanic passive margins and oceanic plateaus represent the largest known volcanic episodes on our planet yet they are not easily explained by plate tectonics Indeed some are likely to record periods when the outward transfer of material and energy from the Earth's interior operated in a significantly different mode than at present In recent years interest in large scale mafic magmatism has surged as high precision geochronological detailed geochemical and increasingly sophisticated geophysical data have become available for many provinces However the sheer amount of recent material often in the form of detailed collaborative research projects can overwhelm newcomers to the field and experts alike as the literature continues to grow dramatically The need for an up to date review volume on a sizable subset of the major continental and oceanic flood basalt provinces termed large igneous provinces was recognized by the Commission on Large Volume Basaltic Provinces International Association of Volcanology and Chemistry of the Earth's Interior and the co editors were charged with organizing and implementing such a volume We hope that this volume will be valuable to researchers and graduate students worldwide particularly to petrologists geochemists geochronologists geodynamicists and plate tectonics specialists it may also interest planetologists oceanographers and atmospheric scientists New Publications of the Geological Survey Geological Survey (U.S.), 1991
