District Primary Education Programme Digumarti Bhaskara Rao, 1998. The District Primary Education Programme is one of the home-grown innovative educational programmes with three main goals: universal access, retention and achievement. It is an ambitious national programme firmly rooted in the national policy on Education aiming to achieve Education For All by 2000 A.D. It is a sustainable, cost-effective and replicable one on a national scale. It is also an exercise in decentralised planning which puts local communities in charge of education. The districts chosen under it represent those where female literacy is below the national average of 52.21%. With great hope, conviction and preparation it was launched on November 8, 1994. DPEP will be another success story in the field of education. Let the goals of DPEP be realised and in process every one of the society be a part of this success story.

Nutritional Adequacy, Diversity and Choice Among Primary School Children Shreelata Rao Seshadri, Jyoti Ramakrishna, 2017-10-20. This book highlights the reality of malnutrition among school age children in India and relates it with dietary adequacy, diversity and choice. Using empirical data from field research conducted in Karnataka, India, it documents the nutritional status of school-going children.

and examines the socio economic determinants It provides insights into changing dietary patterns by analysing case studies from households and schools and documents the impact of changing dietary choices on the daily nutritional intake of young children As the issue of nutrition for school age children is one that is largely neglected in the literature the book fills an important gap The book also investigates the policy framework for addressing the nutritional needs of school going children and assesses the available government sponsored interventions in terms of their efficiency and effectiveness measured by their impact on the nutritional indices of the target group It offers concrete recommendations for changing the nutritional intake of school going children Navigating through the socio cultural causes for changing food choice and their impact on children s nutritional outcomes this book shows a viable path to addressing malnutrition taking into account both macro level policy constraints and the micro level perspectives of families schools and communities
