Mask Mandates Save Lives Mr. Niels-Jakob H Hansen, Rui C. Mano, 2021-08-06 We quantify the effect of mask mandates in the United States Our regression discontinuity design exploits county level variation in COVID 19 cases hospital admissions and deaths across the border between states with and without mandates We find a significant and substantial effect mask mandates reduced new weekly COVID 19 cases hospital admissions and deaths by 55 11 and 0 7 per 100 000 inhabitants on average Crucially we find that the effect of mask mandates depends on the attitudes toward mask wearing at the county level with larger effects in counties more positively inclined towards mask wearing Our results imply that mandates saved 87 000 lives through December 19 2020 while a nationwide mandate could have saved 58 000 additional lives These large effects suggest that mask mandates are a crucial tool to counter pandemics particularly if accepted widely by the population Our results are thus also relevant for countries who will not be able to immunize large swaths of their population in the short term
