Government Contract Fraud Christopher Allen Gonzales, Utica College, 2008 Since the beginning of the Global War on Terror in 2001 the amount of money lost annually to government procurement fraud is in the billions Investigators are receiving an overwhelming number of these investigations which take years to move through the legal system Investigations of this nature demand a complex set of skills and in depth knowledge of the government procurement system Investigators are often expected to understand and handle these investigations without having the requisite training Without employer sponsored training investigators are forced to either search for training on their own which can be costly and time consuming or review a myriad of intricately detailed books with such complicated and foreign terms that it can be frustrating to find the beginning Inexperienced investigators must then either rely on senior investigators who often are already are working a heavy caseload or simply attempt to handle these non traditional investigations without the proper knowledge base Investigators must understand that whichever route they choose their methods calculations interpretations of contract clauses and resulting criminal civil charges will be scrutinized by groups of specialists with years of experience in government contracting This project creates a self explanatory manual on contract fraud investigations that enables an investigator to maneuver through a procurement substitution fraud investigation including the civil criminal and or administrative remedies This manual serves as a readily available affordable and sufficiently detailed investigator focused manual until they can attend specialized training The manual also serves as a useful comprehensive reference after investigators have completed training
