Miller, 2017-06-16 A collaborative project with a variety of critical essays This final volume of studies by members of the Society of Biblical Literature's consultation and later seminar on Ancient Myths and Modern Theories of Christian Origins focuses on Mark As with previous volumes the provocative proposals on Christian origins offered by Burton L Mack are tested by applying Jonathan Z Smith's distinctive social theorizing and comparative method Essays examine Mark as an author's writing in a book culture a writing that responded to situations arising out of the first Roman Judean war after the destruction of the Jerusalem temple in 70 CE Contributors William E Arnal Barry S Crawford Burton L Mack Christopher R Matthews Merrill P Miller Jonathan Z Smith and Robyn Faith Walsh explore the southern Levant as a plausible provenance of the Gospel of Mark and provide a detailed analysis of the construction of Mark as a narrative composed without access to prior narrative sources about Jesus A concluding retrospective follows the work of the seminar its developing discourse and debates and the continuing work of successor groups in the field Features A thorough examination of the relation between structure and event in social and anthropological theory that provides conceptual tools for representing the project of the author of Mark An exploration of the southern Levant as a plausible provenance of the Gospel a permanent site of successive imperial regimes and culturally

The Turning Point in the Gospel of Mark Gregg S. Morrison, 2014-09-24 Based on linguistic and thematic links in the narrative The Turning Point in the Gospel of Mark argues that the twin pericopae of Peter's confession 8 27 38 and the Transfiguration 9 2 13 together function as the turning point of the Gospel and serve in a Janus like manner enabling the reader to see the author's main focus the identity of Jesus and the significance of that reality for his disciples Peter's confession of Jesus as Messiah faces backward toward the Prologue 1 1 13 and functions as a mid course conclusion The declaration by God on the mountain faces forward and foreshadows the end course conclusion 14 61 62 15 39 Son of God Jesus in response teaches that the Son of Man must suffer and die before being raised from the dead 8 31 Christologically the images of Messiah Son of Man and Son of God converge and present Jesus the crucified as king ushering in the kingdom of God in power 9 1 acting as the key swivel between the twin pericopae When one is confronted with this Jesus though there remains something elusive about him and the kingdom of God in the narrative the only wise decision after calculating the costs 8 34 38 is to follow

Reconsidering the History of South African Journalism Gawie Botma, 2025-03-21 The concept of the free press is often celebrated as the vehicle which finally brought freedom of speech and democracy to post apartheid South Africa but historically the position of the press was more complicated This book dives into the history of slavery at the Cape between 1800 and 1838 reflecting on the fact that several founding journalists and printers were slave owners themselves and advertised slaves as regular property in their publications The book presents an inclusive history of the founding of colonial newspapers and magazines driven by the question of how we in the 21st century should make sense of the role that newspapers and journalism played at key points in the history of slavery and its aftermath The slave press was a label originally attached to The Cape Town Gazette and African Advertiser when it was founded by a pair of well connected private British slave traders This book challenges us to confront the ghost of the slave press and to consider the complicated history of press freedom in South Africa This important book will be of interest to scholars and students of journalism and media history in South Africa and beyond
