The Art of Latina and Latino Elderhood Katynka Z.

Martínez,Mérida M. Rúa,2022-11-20 It is widely recognized that Latinos are a sizable and diverse population and that we are a young demographic The median age of non Hispanic white Americans is 58 whereas for Latinos it is 30 Footnote1 Perhaps this partially explains the dearth of attention afforded to the topic of aging Latinos by academic scholarship and the mainstream media This special issue compellingly alerts us to the reality that there is a growing aging Latino population about which we know very little and that deserves our attention I am grateful to Katynka Mart nez and M rida R a for curating The Art of Latina and Latino Elderhood since this special issue responds to this significant gap in our knowledge with an exciting set of academic articles and creative contributions that challenges not only our assumptions about Latinos and aging but also our thinking on the types of contributions we include in our journal pages Katynka and M rida make the case that the story of Latino elderhood is best conveyed through a truly multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary approach bringing together public policy humanistic social sciences and artistic interventions So for the first time Latino Studies is pleased to feature a novel in progress a photo essay dial go an artist s monologue and a dialogue among actors alongside more traditional academic articles I think you will agree that this issue before you beautifully conveys why the subject of Latinos and aging should concern all of us and that it will powerfully spur other researchers and artists to take up the invitation to continue to share new evocative stories about the pleasures difficulties and complexities of Latinx later life Previously published in Latino Studies Volume 19 issue 4 December 2021

How to Be a Boss at Ageing Anniki Sommerville, 2021-03-31 I loved this book! Full of wit and wisdom, Anniki tells it like it is. Clover Stroud: Do you find yourself fighting the urge to go to bed at 8pm? Do you look at your laughter lines and wonder what was ever so funny? Do you listen to the charts and not have a clue who's singing? Do images of celebrities over forty in swimsuits just make you want to drink more wine? If you answered yes to any of the above, then this is the book for you. Funny, honest and packed with advice, this is a must read for any woman experiencing and not particularly relishing the effects of ageing. Anniki Sommerville shares her own experiences with those of other women as well as advice from experts: Sali Hughes, Ciarán Lloyd, Meg Mathews, Emma Gannon and Dr Karen Gurney among others to help you navigate this journey including Demystifying the menopause and how to deal with fluctuating moods and hormones, Breaking the taboo of cosmetic surgery and why we need to start having honest conversations about ageing and beauty, Exploring the reality of fertility treatment and motherhood including what happens when you're peri-menopausal and parenting small kids, How feeling bad about our bodies can often be a barrier to feeling good about sex and tips on how you can change that, Why ambition is not a dirty word in middle age and how to stop feeling invisible in the workplace, How to deal with grief and losing loved ones as we age, How to be a Boss at Ageing will show you how not to give up when ageing creeps up. It's time to rip up the rule book on what it means to grow older as a woman and embrace midlife. There's no need to retire into cardigans and comfy slacks just yet. Read what everyone is saying about How to Be a Boss at Ageing. I LOVED this book, a book I couldn't put down, so refreshingly honest.
