Statham,2017-05-02 This key text for the building team is an authoritative guide and gives a detailed account of the team's roles and responsibilities with best industry practice required to ensure that building projects meet clients' expectations on time, cost and quality. The second edition of The Aqua Group Guide to Procurement, Tendering and Contract Administration has been edited, enlarged and updated by a high profile author team with unparalleled experience of both private and public sectors as well as of teaching on QS courses. It covers the entire building process from inception to final account and throughout the emphasis is on current best practice. This edition has new material on the CDM regulations, JCT contracts, the RIBA Plan of Work, the RICS New Rules of Measurement, BIM and Sustainability as well as a general update for industry changes especially on procurement, internationalisation and PFI. With clear and thorough explanations you are taken through self-contained chapters covering the detail of the briefing stage, procurement methods, tendering procedures and contract administration. The period from starting a college course to successful completion of professional examinations represents a long and steep learning curve. The range of skills and the knowledge required to perform work efficiently and effectively might at first seem rather daunting. Although designed as an introductory textbook for undergraduates in construction, architecture and quantity surveying, The Aqua Group Guide offers an excellent overview of contract administration and will provide you with sufficient understanding to hold you in good stead for your early years in professional practice.

Residential Property Appraisal Phil Parnham, Larry Russen, 2022-11-30 Residential Property Appraisal Volumes 1 and 2 are handbooks not only for students studying residential surveying but also for those involved in the appraisal of residential property. Volume 1 has been updated and covers the valuation process as it relates to residential properties particularly when valuation is undertaken for secured lending purposes. It addresses the basic skills required, the risks posed in a valuation, the key drivers of value, emerging issues that impact valuation and the key legal and RICS regulatory considerations that a valuer needs to understand. Volume 2 of the series goes on to consider the practical aspects of the survey and inspection of residential properties in more detail. Not only does this include updated sections on the most common defects for example building movement, moisture problems, wood rot and wood boring insects, it also covers emerging challenges including assessing personal safety hazards, modern construction technologies and materials and invasive plants. The volume also takes account of the Home Survey Standard recently published by the RICS and the changes resulting from climate change, the energy crisis and concerns about fire safety. Building services in domestic residential properties is another area of rapid change especially with the development of low carbon and renewable technologies. To ensure that this aspect is covered in sufficient detail the content is to be included in Volume 3 Assessing Building Services. An essential book for students studying to enter the residential survey and valuation profession and for existing practitioners who wish to improve their knowledge of current practices. User Guide [to Energy Information Administration Issuances].
