Broomfield,2016-02-25 While some cities owe their existence to lumber or oil turpentine or steel Kansas City owes its existence to food From its earliest days Kansas City was in the business of provisioning pioneers and traders headed west and later with provisioning the nation with meat and wheat Throughout its history thousands of Kansas Citians have also made their living providing meals and hospitality to travelers passing through on their way elsewhere be it by way of a steamboat Conestoga wagon train automobile or airplane As Kansas City s adopted son Fred Harvey sagely noted Travel follows good food routes and Kansas City s identity as a food city is largely based on that fact Kansas City A Food Biography explores in fascinating detail how a frontier town on the edge of wilderness grew into a major metropolis one famous for not only great cuisine but for a crossroads hospitality that continues to define it Kansas City A Food Biography also explores how politics race culture gender immigration and art have forged the city s most iconic dishes from chili and steak to fried chicken and barbecue In lively detail Andrea Broomfield brings the Kansas City food scene to life Barbecue Lover's Kansas City Style Ardie A. Davis,2015-10-15 Barbecue Lover s Kansas City Style celebrates the best this region has to offer Perfect for both the local BBQ enthusiast and the traveling visitor alike each guide features the history of the BBQ culinary style where to find and most importantly consume the best of the best local offerings regional recipes from restaurants chefs and pit masters information on the best barbecue related festivals and culinary events plus regional maps and full color photography Gloria Pitzer's Cookbook - the Best of the Recipe Detective Gloria Pitzer,2018-01-15 FAMOUS FOODS FROM FAMOUS PLACES have intrigued good cooks for a long time even before fast foods of the 1950 s were a curiosity When cookbooks offer us a sampling of good foods they seldom devote themselves to the dishes of famous restaurants There is speculation among the critics as to the virtues of re creating at home the foods that you can buy eating out such as the fast food fares of the popular franchise restaurants To each his own Who would want to imitate fast food at home I found that over a million people who saw me demonstrate replicating some famous fast food products on The Phil Donahue Show July 7 1981 DID and their letters poured in at a rate of over 15 000 a day for months on end And while I have investigated the recipes dishes and cooking techniques of fine dining rooms around the world I received more requests from people who wanted to know how to make things like McDonald s Special Sauce or General Foods Shake N Bake coating mix or White Castle s hamburgers than I received for those things like Club 21 s Coq Au Vin National & Regional Styles of Cookery Alan Davidson,1981-01-01 Lost Restaurants of Louisville Stephen Hacker & Michelle Turner,2015-11-02 Louisville was home to fine cuisine long before the famous restaurant rows on Bardstown Road Frankfort Avenue and East Market Street Mazzoni s served the area s first rolled oyster At the C 54 Grill guests dined inside a remodeled aircraft and Kaelin's prepared its classic cheeseburger Hasenour's sauerbraten and Hoe Kow's war sui gai are two dishes that still make local mouths water when mentioned. Authors Stephen Hacker and Michelle Turner revisit the vivid personalities, celebrated spaces and unique recipes that made Louisville's historic eateries unforgettable. Dinner Roles Sherrie A. Inness, 2001-04 Who cooks dinner in American homes? It's no surprise that Mom remains the overwhelming answer. Cooking and all it entails from grocery shopping to chopping vegetables to clearing the table is to this day primarily a woman's responsibility. How this relationship between women and food developed through the twentieth century and why it has endured are the questions Sherrie Inness seeks to answer in Dinner Roles: American Women and Culinary Culture. By exploring a wide range of popular media from the first half of the twentieth century including cookbooks, women's magazines and advertisements, Dinner Roles sheds light on the network of sources that helped perpetuate the notion that cooking is women's work. Cookbooks and advertisements provided valuable information about the ideals that American society upheld. A woman who could prepare the perfect Jell-O mold, whip up a cake with her new electric mixer and still maintain a spotless kitchen and a sunny disposition was the envy of other housewives across the nation. Inness begins her exploration not with women but with men, those individuals often missing from the kitchen who were taught their own set of culinary values. She continues with the study of juvenile cookbooks which provided children with their first cooking lessons. Chapters on the rise of electronic appliances, ethnic foods and the 1950s housewife all add to our greater understanding of women's evolving roles in American culinary culture. Chilimania! Herb Geltner, Chris Geltner, 1992 End of the Trail Eats Natalie Bright, 2024-04-01 Life in the saddle tested the toughest men on the trail and the food they consumed during the greatest controlled movement of Texas Longhorns was equally as hearty. Tired of beans and sourdough biscuits, dining establishments located at the railhead shipping points swarmed with trail-weary wranglers eager for a fine meal. This is authentic and original trail-driving cooking at its finest. No matter where you are, whether a campsite, pit grill or home stove, using your grandmother's best cast iron, these recipes are suitable for the modern kitchen. Discover the iconic taste of the American West with these 80 wrangler-tested and approved recipes from mule-powered chuck wagons to cowtown cafes. In End of the Trail Eats, Natalie Bright has compiled a collection of dishes from ranch kitchens, saloons, supply stations, cowtown cafes and cook shacks. Sprinkled with archival photographs, Old West history, first-hand accounts and profiles of the cooks who keep the traditions alive, this cookbook has something for everyone. The Kansas City Review of Science and Industry, 1884 500 More Low-Carb Recipes Dana Carpender, 2004-10-01 Dana Carpender has done it again: 500 all-new recipes from snacks to desserts that the whole family will love. This time she highlights world cuisines including Italian, French, Chinese, Japanese, Greek, Mexican and other ethnic favorites. Most of these cuisines emphasize carbs, whether it's rice, pasta or potatoes, but Dana has worked her magic to make delicious, simple, low-carb versions that provide variety to the world's most popular diet. Princeton Alumni Weekly, 1974 1,001 Best Hot and Spicy Recipes Dave DeWitt, 2016-11-26 Recipes for the most
