

Weathering, Erosion, Deposition

Weathering: rocks (or other exposed objects) are broken down into smaller pieces over time.

Erosion: the particles are moved from their original place, usually by wind and water.

Deposition: the particles find a new resting place.

Read each passage and decide whether it is showing an example of weather, erosion or deposition.

| Weathering                                                     | Erosion                                                                        |
|----------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Deposition                                                     | A rock frozen in a glacier is slowly carried away.                             |
| Sediment forms a small island at the mouth of a river.         | Water between cracks in a rock, freezes and expands, making the cracks larger. |
| Mud falls down a mountainside.                                 | Sand dunes get larger as the wind drops more and more sand.                    |
| Rocks break from the growing roots of a tree.                  | Water carries away soil from the riverbank.                                    |
| Waves crash against a rock wall and move loose particles away. | Soil from a landslide piles up at the base of the mountain.                    |
| Sediment moved to a new location due to flood waters.          | Wind carves arches in rock formations.                                         |
| Acid rain dissolves limestone.                                 | Rocks trapped in glaciers scrapes against other rocks.                         |
| Wind carries particles of sand across a desert.                | Waves drop sand on a beach.                                                    |
