

G12R AND G12RE SERIES UNITS

I - INTRODUCTION

Both G12R and G12RE units are built with Duracurve heat exchangers formed out of cold rolled steel. These furnaces are atmospheric type burners that use pilot burners for ignition. The "G12R" units use a standing pilot which burns continuously to ignite the main burners on each heating demand. This standing pilot uses a thermocouple for flame verification. In the event of pilot outage, the gas valve locks itself out in response to the thermocouple.

"G12RE" units use electronic ignition systems to light the pilot on each operating cycle (intermittent pilot). A protection circuit verifies pilot flame to allow main burner ignition. Main burner and pilot are extinguished during the off cycle. If the pilot gas does not light, the main gas valve will not open.

These units are down-flow furnaces designed for installations with the duct work installed under the floor or tunneled into a concrete slab floor. Only the G12RE unit is approved for usage with the optional Vent Damper Assembly. The damper actuator electrically interlocks with the ignition system. The vent damper must be fully open before pilot ignition can occur.

The units are manufactured for natural gas applications, but field propane changeover kits are available.
