The Reason for the genocide in Rwanda

This is a movie that brings out the truth about the Rwandan genocide which consumed the lives of 800,000 people. This resulted from the history of the Rwanda's two major tribes; the Tutsi and Hutu. Rwanda was colonized by Belgium, and it was supported by the Tutsi. In the colonial process, the Hutus were discriminated by the colonial power, which was Belgium with the help of the Tutsi. When Rwanda attained independent, the Belgians flew out of Rwanda. The Hutus took over power in Rwanda.

The Hutus extremists were filled with tribalism and hard courage guided by the fact that they were in power, they used this as an advantage to revenge the Tutsi. The Hutu extremists then started slowly killing the Tutsi people and the Hutus that were not racists. In the process, many innocent women, children and men were slaughtered by the Hutu extremists. The unique thing that happened was that none of the powerful nations like the US, Belgium, or even the international agency formed with the intention of keeping peace did not intervene. They stared from a far and watched the innocent women, children and men being slaughtered by the Hutu extremists just because they were Tutsi people.

The reason that Kofi Annan gives as to why the UN did not intervene and stop the killings

General Dallier and Barely were the first generals of the United Nations Peacekeeping that were informed of what was happening in Rwanda. General Dallier had less to do on his own without Kofi Anna's approval. For this reason, he sent a telegram to the peacekeeping department of UN General Kofi Annan, who was on the seat at that time. In his telegram, he informed Annan that somebody told him that the Rwandan government was slaughtering its own people just because they were Tutsis. The intention of the government of Rwanda was using this as a trap to chase the

Essays in World Languages and Cultures Yves-Antoine Clemmen, Margit Grieb, Will Lehman, 2018-04-16 This volume consists of 16 papers selected from the 22nd Southeast Conference on Foreign Languages Literatures and Films held on February 25-27, 2016 on the campus of Stetson University in Celebration, Florida. The shared focus of the essays is to examine how writers, filmmakers, and language educators address stereotypes in their representations of diverse cultural paradigms by using deconstructing or displacing these stereotypes. The fourth section of this publication includes 4 experimental poems by the artist Susanne Eules. The Shakespearean International Yearbook Alexa Alice Joubin, Natalia Khomenko, 2025-06-30 In the modern world, references to Shakespeare frequently mark moments of catastrophe and of the accompanying longing for restoring social order, remedying injuries, and building strong communities. Shakespeare's moral authority has often been invoked to support artistic projects that claimed social justice as their goal on the assumption that drama has the power to manipulate perceptual reality. Drawing on cases from around the world, this book interrogates the idea that performing or reading Shakespeare has socially reparative value. It also acknowledges Shakespeare as a potential source of social well-being practices in the arts. The global framework shows that it is problematic to view Shakespeare as an impartial moral center. This book proposes that reparative creativity or remedial uses of the canon can give artists and audiences more agency. Having a map of canonical texts, hidden ideologies can help readers, artists, and playgoers navigate its landscape, which is in itself a reparative act. Mobilizing the Will to Intervene Frank Chalk, Kyle Matthews, Carla Barqueiro, Simon Doyle, 2010-08-23 Despite the handwringing and promises of never again, the grim recurrences of genocide and crimes against humanity around the world have made it emphatically clear that the international community has been largely ineffective in stopping mass atrocity crimes. Drawing on candid interviews with eighty key figures involved in American and Canadian responses to the Rwandan genocide of 1994 and the Kosovo crisis of 1999, Mobilizing the Will to Intervene explains why and provides a roadmap for change. Since appeals to the moral law carry little weight in the political calculations of modern states, the authors argue that civil society must persuade governments that the prevention of mass atrocities around the world is in every country's national interest. In a globalized world, violence, disease, and instability triggered by mass atrocities in one place affect the security, health, and prosperity of all other regions. No nation is an island. Impassioned, insightful, and determined, Mobilizing the Will to Intervene is a direct appeal to American and Canadian politicians, NGOs, journalists, and the public to participate effectively in the prevention of mass atrocities by pressuring their leaders to act. With simple practical recommendations, this book shows how civil society can participate in preventing future mass atrocities and help repair a ruined system of international aid. Michael L. Morgan: History and Moral Normativity Hava Tirosh-Samuelson, Aaron W. Hughes, 2018-06-05 Michael L. The Dramatic Society Klaas Tindemans, 2022-10-26 All societies are by their very nature dramatic They present themselves especially for those who want to look back in time as a fascinating and confusing whole of theatrical events and constructions Sometimes the theatre itself succeeds in capturing that fascination and confusion This book describes the dramatic society in the form of case studies that link politics history and culture The Dramatic Society uses selected plays to examine specific moments in history Its range of subjects are extremely diverse including Medea as an icon of terrorism a choreography based upon Shakespeare s As You Like It horror movies about the German unification a truth commission dealing with human zoos and the reconstruction of Ai Weiwei s troubles with the tax authorities This collection of insightful essays deals with theatrical performances including happenings installations and movies of the past fifty years with every chapter attempting to link artistic events with politics and political theory from Hannah Arendt to Slavoj i ek This is a revealing assessment of the ways in which drama and politics become intertwined offering crucial insights for scholars and students of theatre studies performance studies contemporary politics and cultural studies

On Shame Michael Morgan, 2011-04-06 Shame is one of a family of self conscious emotions that includes embarrassment guilt disgrace and humiliation On Shame examines this emotion psychologically and philosophically in order to show how it can be a galvanizing force for moral action against the violence and atrocity that characterize the world we live in Michael L Morgan argues that because shame is global in its sense of the self the moral failures of all groups in which we are a member including the entire human race reflect on each person individually Drawing on historical and current affairs to explore the emotion of shame as well as films such as Night and Fog Hotel Rwanda and Life is Beautiful and the work of Primo Levi Bernard Williams and Stanley Cavell Michael Morgan illustrates how moral responsibility can be facilitated by calling upon an emotional reaction that is familiar complex and central to our conception of ourselves as
