Docu-Fictions of War Tatiana Prorokova,2019-05-01 Historical writing and fiction are not the same thing though historians often creatively manipulate material in imposing plot structures selecting starting and ending points and fashioning compelling literary characters from historical figures In Docu Fictions of War Tatiana Prorokova argues that the opposite is also true war fiction offers a kind of history that both documents its subjects and provides a snapshot of the cultural representation of the United States most recent military involvements She covers a largely neglected body of cinematic and literary texts about the First Gulf War the Balkan War the Afghanistan War and the Iraq War to open a fresh analysis of cultural texts on war Prorokova contends that these texts are not pure fiction but docu fictions works of imagination that can document their subjects while disclosing the social political and historical link between war and culture during the last three decades Docu Fictions of War analyzes how these representational narratives have highlighted a humanitarian rationale behind American involvement in each war whether the stated goals were to free the oppressed from tyranny stop genocide or rid the world of terrorism The book explores the gap between history what allegedly happened and the cultural mythology that is both true and inexact tangible and sensed recognized and undocumented Adventurous Women in Contemporary American Historical Fiction Jeannette King,2022-03-10 This book brings together for the first time nine groundbreaking historical novels by women from the United States Canada and Latin America united by their focus on female adventurers These novels introduce the neglected women of history real and imagined who accompanied their menfolk to the New World and enabled its settlement or colonisation Familiar novelists include Isabel Allende Audrey Thomas and Jane Smiley but this book also introduces less familiar writers who have produced richly textured and densely historical novels In addition to putting women back into history these writers engage with the literature of the past including the American canon of male fiction which dominated literary history before the intervention of feminist scholars The book begins with an introduction to the history of historical fiction and provides a theoretical historical and geographical context for the novels themselves Fictions of Certitude John S. Haller,2020-03-24 The search for belief and meaning among nineteenth century intellectuals The nineteenth century s explosion of scientific theories and new technologies undermined many deep seated beliefs that had long formed the basis of Western society making it impossible for many to retain the unconditional faith of their forebears A myriad of discoveries including Faraday s electromagnetic induction Joule s law of conservation of energy Pasteur s germ theory Darwin s and Wallace s theories of evolution by natural selection and Planck s work on quantum theory shattered conventional understandings of the world that had been dictated by traditional religious teachings and philosophical systems for centuries Fictions of Certitude Science Faith and the Search for Meaning 1840 1920 investigates the fin de si cle search for truth and meaning in a world that had been radically transformed John S Haller Jr examines the moral and philosophical journeys of nine European and American intellectuals who sought deeper understanding amid such paradigmatic upheaval Auguste Comte John Henry Newman Herbert Spencer Alfred Russel Wallace Thomas Henry Huxley John Fiske William James Lester Frank Ward and Paul Carus all belonged to an age in which one world was passing while another world that was both astounding and threatening was rising to take its place For Haller what makes the work of these nine thinkers worthy of examination is how they strove in different ways to find certitude and belief in the face of an epochal sea change Some found ways to reconceptualize a world in which God and nature coexist For others the challenge was to discern meaning in a world in which no higher power or purpose can be found As explained by D H Meyer The later Victorians were perhaps the last generation among English speaking intellectuals able to believe that man was capable of understanding his universe just as they were the first generation collectively to suspect that he never would

Foundational Fictions in South Australian History Carolyn Collins,Paul Sendziuk,2018-10-15 In this lively provocative collection some of Australia s leading historians and a Miles Franklin shortlisted historical novelist challenge established myths narratives and beautiful lies about South Australia s past Some are unmasked as false stories that mask brutal realities like colonial violence while others are revealed as simplistic versions of more complex truths Each generation writes history that speaks to its own interests and concerns write historians Paul Ashton and Anna Clark In Foundational Fictions in South Australian History which grew out of a series of public lectures at the University of Adelaide an impressive range of contributors suggest different ways in which familiar narratives of South Australia can be interpreted These essays tap into wider debates too about the nature and purpose of history and the history wars first flamed by John Howard Stuart Macintyre highlights South Australia s central role in several national events Humphrey McQueen questions the origins and influence of the money behind South Australia s so called progressive founding Lucy Treloar suggests historians can learn from novelists when it comes to understanding the past Steven Anderson argues that Don Dunstan s achievement in abolishing capital punishment owed much to a historical movement And Carolyn Collins highlights the role of anti conscription group Save Our Sons SOS in not just ending the Vietnam War but broadening the appeal of the anti war movement

Founded in Fiction Thomas Koenigs, 2024-11-26 This monograph presents a new history of early American literature that traces the diverse forms of fiction circulating in the early United States 1789 1861 and how they shaped the way Americans thought and argued about political and cultural issues of their age

Storytelling for Sustainability in Higher Education Petra Molthan-Hill, Heather Luna, Tony Wall, Helen Puntha, Denise Baden, 2020-03-25 To be a storyteller is an incredible position from which to influence hearts and minds and each one of us has the capacity to utilise storytelling for a sustainable future This book offers unique and powerful insights into how stories and storytelling can be utilised within higher education to support sustainability literacy Stories can shape our perspective of the world around us and how we interact with it and this is where storytelling becomes a useful tool for facilitating understanding of sustainability concepts which tend to be complex and multifaceted The craft of storytelling is as old as time and has influenced human experience throughout the ages The conscious use of storytelling in higher education is likewise not new although less prevalent in certain academic disciplines what this book offers is the opportunity to delve into the concept of storytelling as an educational tool regardless of and beyond the boundaries of subject area Written by academics and storytellers the book is based on the authors own experiences of using stories within teaching from a story of the Ecology of Law to the exploration of sustainability in accounting and finance via contemporary cinema Practical advice in each chapter ensures that ideas may be put into practice with ease In addition to examples from the classroom the book also explores wider uses of storytelling for communication and sense making and ways of assessing student storytelling work It also offers fascinating research insights for example in addressing the question of whether positive utopian stories relating to climate change will have a stronger impact on changing the behaviour of readers than will dystopian stories Everyone working as an educator should find some inspiration here for their own practice on using storytelling and stories to co design positive futures together with our students
