to successfully transition from adolescence into adulthood These kids technically adults just can't get it together They can't hold a job they struggle to develop meaningful relationships and they often end up back in their parents spare bedroom or on the couch In fact studies show that one in four Americans aged twenty five to thirty four neither work nor attend school and it's a problem that spans all socioeconomic and geographic boundaries McConville investigates the root causes of this problem Why are modern kids failing to launch in ever increasing numbers The key McConville has found is that they are struggling with three critical skills that are necessary to make the transition from childhood to adulthood finding a sense of purpose developing administrative responsibility and cultivating interdependence In Failure to Launch McConville breaks these down into achievable accessible goals and offers a practical guide for the whole family to help parents instill those skills in their young adults and to get their kids into the real world ready to start their lives Code of Federal
