Virtual Educational Therapy Marion E. Marshall, 2022-06-20 Virtual Educational Therapy presents a board certified educational therapist's year long case study of clinical supports and advocacy for a student with learning disabilities who is attending school remotely during the COVID 19 pandemic. With online and blended learning now the norm in K 12 education, educational therapists need new models of intervention, treatment, and relationship building for their child age clients. This book offers detailed single case research focused on a middle school student who is learning virtually while challenged with ADHD as well as visual and verbal memory issues but who is nonetheless found ineligible for special education services. Across eight chapters, author and renowned educational therapist Marion E. Marshall describes the neuropsychological principles, research based techniques, personal interactions, clinical approaches, and advocacy efforts that led to a vulnerable student's significant gains in academic skills and outcomes.

Scientific Mythologies James A. Herrick, 2008-01-01 What does science have to do with science fiction? What does science fiction have to do with scientists? What does religion have to do with science and science fiction? In the spiritual vacuum of our post Christian West, new mythologies continually arise. The sources of much religious speculation, however, may be surprising. Author James Herrick directs our attention to a wide range of scientists, filmmakers, science fiction writers, and religious philosophers and discovers there the role that science and science fiction have played in such mythmaking. From scientists such as Francis Bacon, Francis Crick, Carl Sagan, and Freeman Dyson to filmmakers such as George Lucas and Steven Spielberg to science fiction writers such as Olaf Stapledon, Sir Arthur C. Clarke, Robert Heinlein, and Isaac Asimov, Herrick finds a curious collusion of science with science fiction for promoting and justifying alternative spiritualities. The rise of these new mythologies, he argues, is no longer a curiosity at the edge of Western culture. This alchemy is catalyzing a religious vision of new gods, a new humanity, and alien races with superior intelligence and secret knowledge. This new mythology overshadows the realms of politics, science, and religion. Should we follow such visions? Does science endorse these mythologies? Are we being offered a spirituality superior to the Judeo Christian tradition? This book will help you decide.

Not a Choice, Not a Job JANICE G. RAYMOND, 2013-07-15 A generation ago, most people did not know how ubiquitous and grave human trafficking was. Now many people agree that the $35.7 billion business is an appalling violation of human rights. But when confronted with prostitution, many people experience an odd disconnect because prostitution is shrouded in myths, among them the claims that prostitution is inevitable and prostitution is a job or service like any other. In Not a Choice, Not a Job, Janice Raymond challenges both the myths and their perpetrators. Raymond demonstrates that prostitution is not sex but sexual exploitation and that legalizing and decriminalizing the system of prostitution, as opposed to the prostituted women, promotes sex trafficking, expands the sex industry, and invites organized crime. Specifically, Raymond exposes how legalized prostitution in the Netherlands, Germany, Australia, and Nevada worsens crime and endangers women. In contrast, she reveals when governments work to prevent the demand for prostitution by prosecuting pimps brothels and prostitution users as in Norway Sweden and Iceland trafficking does not increase women are better protected and fewer men buy sex Raymond expands the boundaries of scholarship in women s studies making this book indispensable to human rights advocates around the world Soviet Literature ,1985

Recharting the Thirties Patrick J. Quinn,1996 The aim of Recharting the Thirties is to revitalize the awareness of the reading public with regard to eighteen writers whose books have been largely ignored by publishers and scholars since their major works first appeared in the thirties The selection is not based on a political agenda but encompasses a wide and divergent range of philosophies clearly the contrasts between Empson and Upward or between Powell and Slater indicated the wide ranging vision of the period Women writers of the period have largely been marginalized and the writings of Sackville West and Burdekin for example not only present distinct feminine voices of the period but also illuminate how much good literature has been forgotten LATIN 2004: Theoretical Informatics Martin Farach-Colton,2004-03-19 This volume contains the proceedings of the Latin American Theoretical Informatics LATIN conference that was held in Buenos Aires Argentina April 5 8 2004 The LATIN series of symposia was launched in 1992 to foster interactions between the Latin American community and computer scientists around the world This was the sixth event in the series following Sao Paulo Brazil 1992 Valparaiso Chile 1995 Campinas Brazil 1998 Punta del Este Uruguay 2000 and Cancun Mexico 2002 The proceedings of these conferences were also published by Springer Verlag in the Lecture Notes in Computer Science series Volumes 583 911 1380 1776 and 2286 respectively Also as before we published a selection of the papers in a special issue of a prestigious journal We received 178 submissions Each paper was assigned to four program committee members and 59 papers were selected This was 80% more than the previous record for the number of submissions We feel lucky to have been able to build on the solid foundation provided by the increasingly successful previous LATINs And we are very grateful for the tireless work of Pablo Martinez Lopez the Local Arrangements Chair Finally we thank Springer Verlag for publishing these proceedings in its LNCS series Fire and Snow Marc DiPaolo,2018-08-01 A broad examination of climate fantasy and science fiction from The Lord of the Rings and the Narnia series to The Handmaid s Tale and Game of Thrones Fellow Inklings J R R Tolkien and C S Lewis may have belonged to different branches of Christianity but they both made use of a faith based environmentalist ethic to counter the mid twentieth century s triple threats of fascism utilitarianism and industrial capitalism In Fire and Snow Marc DiPaolo explores how the apocalyptic fantasy tropes and Christian environmental ethics of the Middle earth and Narnia sagas have been adapted by a variety of recent writers and filmmakers of climate fiction a growing literary and cinematic genre that grapples with the real world concerns of climate change endless wars and fascism as well as the role religion plays in easing or escalating these apocalyptic level crises Among the many other well known climate fiction narratives examined in these pages are Game of Thrones The Hunger Games The Handmaid s Tale Mad Max and Doctor Who Although the authors of these works stake out ideological territory that differs from Tolkien's and Lewis's DiPaolo argues that they nevertheless mirror their predecessors' ecological concerns. The Christians, Jews, atheists, and agnostics who penned these works agree that we all need to put aside our cultural differences and transcend our personal socioeconomic circumstances to work together to save the environment. Taken together, these works of climate fiction model various ways in which a deep ecological solidarity might be achieved across a broad ideological and cultural spectrum. This book is remarkably diverse in its literary, cinematic, journalistic, and graphics media sources, and the writing is equally authoritative in all these domains. DiPaolo's prose moves deftly from a work of fiction to its film avatar to the political and societal realities they address and back again into other cultural manifestations and then into and out of the deep theory of climate fiction, literary scholarship, ecofeminism, religious tradition, and authorial biographies. It contributes considerably to all of these fields and is indispensable for climate and environmental literature classes. It's also a must-have for general readers of the genre. Jonathan Evans, coauthor of Ents, Elves, and Eriador: The Environmental Vision of J.R.R. Tolkien. I like it. No, I love it. This book is both broad and deep, and yet it remains both very readable and constantly interesting. It's the sort of book that can only be written by someone who is a good reader of both books and culture. As I was reading it, I thought this is like being at a party and meeting someone brilliant and fun and finding that I'm enjoying that person's company so much that I don't notice the time flying by. It's not often that a scholarly book does that to me. David O'Hara, Augustana University. 2019-03-01 1979-40 Old Transvaal Stories Herman Charles Bosman, 2000 Soviet Union, 1967
