Lowen,1997-07-01 The cold war university is the academic component of the military industrial academic complex and its archetype according to Rebecca Lowen is Stanford University Her book challenges the conventional wisdom that the post World War II multiversity was created by military patrons on the one hand and academic scientists on the other and points instead to the crucial role played by university administrators in making their universities dependent upon military foundation and industrial patronage Contesting the view that the federal grant university originated with the outpouring of federal support for science after the war Lowen shows how the Depression had put financial pressure on universities and pushed administrators to seek new modes of funding She also details the ways that Stanford administrators transformed their institution to attract patronage With the end of the cold war and the tightening of federal budgets universities again face pressures not unlike those of the 1930s Lowen s analysis of how the university became dependent on the State is essential reading for anyone concerned about the future of higher education in the post cold war era Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1929 National Severe Storms Laboratory Edwin Kessler,1977 Instructor ,1958 Rockefeller and the Internationalization of Mathematics Between the Two World Wars Reinhard Siegmund-Schultze,2001-04-01 Philanthropic societies funded by the Rockefeller family were prominent in the social history of the twentieth century for their involvement in medicine and applied science This book provides the first detailed study of their relatively brief but nonetheless influential foray into the field of mathematics Title Announcement Bulletin ,1957
