Proof of the 1-Factorization and Hamilton Decomposition Conjectures Béla Csaba, Daniela Kühn, Allan Lo, Deryk Osthus, Andrew

Treglown, 2016-10-05 In this paper the authors prove the following results via a unified approach for all sufficiently large n i Factorization conjecture Suppose that n is even and $D \geq 4$ Then every D regular graph G on n vertices has a decomposition into perfect matchings Equivalently G is D Hamilton decomposition conjecture Suppose that $D \geq 2$ Then every D regular graph G on n vertices has a decomposition into Hamilton cycles and at most one perfect matching iii Optimal packings of Hamilton cycles Suppose that G is a graph on n vertices with minimum degree $\geq n/2$ Then G contains at least $\lceil n/2 \rceil$ edge disjoint Hamilton cycles Here $\lceil n/2 \rceil$ denotes the degree of the largest even regular spanning subgraph one can guarantee in a graph on n vertices with minimum degree i was first explicitly stated by Chetwynd and Hilton ii and the special case $n/2$ of iii answer questions of Nash Williams from 1970 All of the above bounds are best possible

Operator-Valued Measures, Dilations, and the Theory of Frames Deguang Han, David R. Larson, Bei Liu, Rui Liu, 2014-04-07 The authors develop elements of a general dilation theory for operator valued measures Hilbert space operator valued measures are closely related to bounded linear maps on abelian von Neumann algebras and some of their results include new dilation results for bounded linear maps that are not necessarily completely bounded and from domain algebras that are not necessarily abelian In the non cb case the dilation space often needs to be a Banach space They give applications to both the discrete and the continuous frame theory There are natural associations between the theory of frames including continuous frames and framings the theory of operator valued measures on sigma algebras of sets and the theory of continuous linear maps between algebras In this connection frame theory itself is identified with the special case in which the domain algebra for the maps is an abelian von Neumann algebra and the map is normal i.e. ultraweakly or weakly or w continuous

The Scientific Journal Alex Csiszar, 2018-06-25 Not since the printing press has a media object been as celebrated for its role in the advancement of knowledge as the scientific journal From open communication to peer review the scientific journal has long been central both to the identity of academic scientists and to the public legitimacy of scientific knowledge But that was not always the case At the dawn of the nineteenth century academies and societies dominated elite study of the natural world Journals were a relatively marginal feature of this world and sometimes even an object of outright suspicion The Scientific Journal tells the story of how that changed Alex Csiszar takes readers deep into nineteenth century London and Paris where savants struggled to reshape scientific life in the light of rapidly changing political mores and the growing importance of the press in public life The scientific journal did not arise as a natural solution to the problem of communicating scientific discoveries Rather as Csiszar shows its dominance was a hard won compromise born of political exigencies shifting epistemic values intellectual property debates and the demands of commerce Many of the tensions and problems that plague scholarly publishing today are rooted in these tangled beginnings As we seek to make sense of our own moment of intense experimentation in publishing platforms peer review and information curation Csiszar argues powerfully that a better understanding of the journal's past will be crucial to imagining future forms for the expression and organization of knowledge
