Guide for Daphne Du Maurier's Rebecca Cengage Learning Gale,2015      The Double in Daphne Maurier's "Rebecca" and Angela Carter's "The Magic Toyshop" Linda Schädler,2014-06-18 Essay from the year 2012 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 10 Swansea University Department of English Language and Literature course

Uncanny Places Gender and the Fantastic language English abstract Doubling is the appearance of persons who have to be regarded as identical because they look alike Freud 2003 14 and according to Freud this can create an uncanny effect because we are faced with the reality of something that we have until now considered imaginary Freud 2003 150 However the trope of the double has far more potential than just sending shivers down our spines its appearance might indeed raise and confront us with important questions concerning our own identity and subjectivity I would like to exemplify this by comparing the importance of doppelgänger figures in Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca and Angela Carter's The Magic Toyshop in relation to gender identity and would like to investigate in particular how the trope of the double phantom might call into question gender role expectations shed light on their constructedness and ultimately play an important role in overcoming social and sexual limitations      Rebecca's Tale Sally Beauman,Daphne Du Maurier,2001 Daphne du Maurier's classic tale is continued Twenty years after the death of Rebecca the first wife of Maxim de Winter and the fire that destroyed Manderley a package concerning Rebecca is sent to Colonel Julian At the same time inquisitive scholar Terence Gray appears asking disturbing questions about the past and searching for the truth behind Rebecca's death August      Body Matters Avril Horner,Angela Keane,2000 Why do bodies matter Body Matters is a collection of essays by feminists working in literary and cultural studies which addresses this question from a range of theoretical perspectives      Adaptation in Contemporary Culture Rachel Carroll,2009-11-30 A comprehensive interdisciplinary collection offering a survey of adaptation of literary texts across media including animation film TV fan fiction biopics and music video      Rebecca Patricia White,2021-05-06 The 1940 film adaptation of Daphne du Maurier's gothic romance Rebecca begins by echoing the novel's famous opening line Last night I dreamt I went to Manderley again Patricia White takes the theme of return as her starting point for an exploration of the film's enduring power Drawing on archival research she shows how the production and reception history of Rebecca the first fruit of the collaboration between Hollywood movie producer David O Selznick and British director Alfred Hitchcock is marked by the traces of women's contributions White provides a rich analysis of the film addressing the gap between perception and reality that is constantly in play in the gothic romance and highlighting the queer erotics circulating around the heroine Mrs Danvers and the dead but ever present Rebecca Her discussion of the film's afterlives emphasizes the lasting aesthetic impact of this dark masterpiece of memory and desire while her attention to its remakes and sequels speaks to the ongoing relevance of its vision of gender and power      Encyclopedia of Romance Fiction Kristin Ramsdell,2018-09-07 As the first encyclopedia solely devoted to the popular romance fiction genre this resource provides a wealth of information on all aspects of the subject Romance fiction accounts for a large share of book sales each year and contrary to popular belief not all of its readers are women roughly 16 percent are men This enormously popular genre continues to captivate people reading for pleasure and it also commands a growing amount of academic interest Included are alphabetically arranged reference entries on significant authors along with works themes and other topics The articles are written by scholars librarians and industry professionals with a deep knowledge of the genre and so provide a thorough understanding of the subject An index provides easy access to information within the entries and bibliographies at the end of each entry a general bibliography and a suggested romance reading list allow for further study of the genre Rebecca work of Alfred Hitchcock so long after his final film appeared What remains to see What could there possibly be left to say about tales that are overwhelmingly familiar Why moreover have many of Hitchcock s films entered the popular imagination and enjoyed an eventful life far from the screen What is the source of Hitchcock s magic This book answers these questions about the influence and ongoing appeal of Hitchcock s work by focussing upon the fabric of the films themselves upon the way in which they enlist and sustain our desire holding our attention by constantly withholding something from us We keep watching keep revisiting the stories because there is always something left to see and know The book combines detailed textual analysis of a number of Hitchcock s most famous films Psycho Rear Window Rebecca North by Northwest The Man Who Knew Too Much and The Birds with more general discussion of the director s complete body of work Drawing upon the poststructuralist theories of Roland Barthes and Jacques Derrida it takes issue with the biographical and psychoanalytic approaches that have dominated studies of Hitchcock s films to argue instead for the significance of textuality Hitchcock s Magic is an innovative lively and readable book which challenges critical orthodoxy and breaks new ground in the field
