Sex, Drugs and Creativity Dustin Kahoud, Danielle Knafo, 2018-06-19 In Sex Drugs and Creativity The Search for Magic in a Disenchanted World Kahoud and Knafo take a close look at omnipotent fantasies in three domains sex drugs and creativity They demonstrate how these fantasies emerge and how artists draw on them both to create and destroy sometimes simultaneously and how understanding this can help psychoanalysts work more effectively with these individuals Using the personal statements of influential artists and entertainers in addition to clinical material the authors examine the omnipotence of self destruction as it contends with that of creative artists The authors argue that creative artists use omnipotent fantasies to imagine the world differently this enables them to produce their art but also leaves these artists vulnerable to addiction Chapters devoted to Stephen King and Anne Sexton demonstrate the ways these authors used drugs and alcohol to fuel imagination and inspire creative output while simultaneously doing harm to themselves A detailed case study also demonstrates successful clinical work with a creative substance user Sex Drugs and Creativity will appeal to anyone interested in the links between creativity and substance use and will be of great use to psychoanalysts and mental health practitioners working with these challenging clients Death in Briar Bottom Timothy Silver, 2024-11-12 On July 3 1972 twenty four hippies from Clearwater Florida set up tents and settled in for the night at Briar Bottom a public US Forest

When Claire arrives in London from her small town, she never expects to cross paths with a woman as magnetic as Talitha Getty. Yearning for the adventure and independence she swept off to Marrakesh, where the two become kindred spirits. But beneath Talitha's glamorous facade lurks a darkness few can understand. 1965 Andrew Grant Jackson, 2015-02-03 For music lovers who were there and for those who wish they were, the book is a well-researched cultural history that leaves no rolling stone unturned. Huffington Post. Friendly rivalry between musicians turned 1965 into the year rock evolved into the premier art form of its time and accelerated the drive for personal freedom throughout the Western world. The Beatles made their first artistic statement with Rubber Soul; Bob Dylan released Like a Rolling Stone, arguably the greatest song of all time, and went electric at the Newport Folk Festival. The Rolling Stones' Satisfaction catapulted the band to world-wide success. New genres such as funk, psychedelia, folk rock, proto-punk, and baroque pop were born. Soul music became a prime force of desegregation as Motown crossed over from the R & B charts to the top of the Billboard Hot 100. Country music reached new heights with Nashville and the Bakersfield sound. Musicians raced to innovate sonically and lyrically against the backdrop of seismic cultural shifts wrought by the Civil Rights Movement, Vietnam, psychedelics, the Pill, long hair for men, and designer Mary Quant's introduction of the miniskirt. In 1965, Andrew Grant Jackson combines fascinating and often surprising personal stories with a panoramic historical narrative. Jackson has a better ear than a lot of music writers, and one of the best parts of this book is his many casual citations of songs that echo others. He shows us the familiar through fresh eyes as he returns us to a year when a lot of us were young and poor and not as happy as we thought we were. Yet there was always a great song on the radio. Washington Post.
