My Name Is Elizabeth A Narrative Telling Her Story:

My Name is Elizabeth Barbara E. Irgens, 2014-11-19 The story tells about a woman who was born in the nineteenth century and lived until 1972 The reader will get to know Elizabeth as the quiet hard working person who lived mostly for others She was born in Glencoe Minnesota and later lived in Minneapolis Minnesota The reader will get to know how this person lived in her childhood married life and retired years Elizabeth lived for others and always put herself last What others did or needed was her main concern Elizabeth s life is valuable not because she did outstanding things but because she lived life as it was handed to her In a simple way Elizabeth was someone people loved to know and learned from Besides all of this you will read about events and life in the areas over one hundred years ago up to 1972 I was born and educated in Minnesota and taught English and Spanish in Southern California until 2002 when I retired and moved to Spokane Valley Washington During the past twelve years I have taught English and Spanish in my home to anyone who wanted to learn I spent time writing books and working in my yard being on my own schedule This book which I am so pleased to have written is about my grandma someone who taught me a lot just by the way she lived It was fun having this book come to life to let others know Elizabeth or know her as I knew her This is my fourth published book I have had several poems published It is my hope that others will enjoy all about Elizabeth Enjoy the story about a great person one who never knew that A Study Guide for Elizabeth Strout's "My Name is Lucy Barton" Gale, Cengage, 2019-05-17 A Study Guide for Elizabeth Strout s My Name is Lucy Barton excerpted from Gale s acclaimed Novels for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Novels for Students for all of your research needs The Disobedient Writer Nancy A. Walker, 1995 For centuries women who aspired to write had to enter a largely male literary tradition that offered few if any literary forms in which to express their perspectives on lived experience Since the nineteenth century however women writers and readers have been producing disobedient counter narratives that while clearly making reference to the original texts overturn their basic assumptions This book looks at both canonical and non canonical works over a variety of fiction and nonfiction genres that offer counter readings of familiar Western narratives Nancy Walker begins by probing women s revisions of two narrative traditions pervasive in Western culture the biblical story of Adam and Eve and the traditional fairy tales that have served as paradigms of women s behavior and expectations She goes on to examine the works of a wide range of writers from contemporaries Marilynne Robinson Ursula Le Guin Anne Sexton Fay Weldon Angela Carter and Margaret Atwood to precursors Caroline Kirkland Fanny Fern Mary De Morgan Mary Louisa Molesworth Edith Nesbit and Evelyn Sharp
