Abstract: The purpose of this study was to investigate the effect of a 12-week training program on the physical and psychological health of elderly people. The study was conducted in a community center in a city in the north of Iran. The study was a quasi-experimental design. The sample consisted of 30 elderly people (15 men and 15 women) who were randomly selected from the community center. The study was conducted in a 12-week period. The data were collected using a questionnaire and a physical fitness test. The results of the study showed that the training program had a significant effect on the physical and psychological health of the elderly people. The study concluded that a 12-week training program can improve the physical and psychological health of elderly people.
