Numbers & Needs Allyson Lawless,2005 Economic Survey ,2011 Choice Architecture Versus Price Xiaoling Ang,2016 We show that changes in choice architecture have a large effect on student loan decisions while we do not find significant effects of sizeable interest rate changes We evaluate the effect of two policies implemented in 2010 by the U S Department of Education 1 the requirement that all applicants for private student loans fill out a Self Certification Form which includes various disclosures about federal aid and 2 the prohibition of presenting a private student loan as a default option on a financial aid offer without disclosure of the relationship between the school and the creditor Using difference and difference and matching techniques on a proprietary dataset of private student loan originations from the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau and survey and administrative data from the Department of Education we show that these changes decreased private student loan originations by 33% at public four year institutions 18% at private not for profit four year institutions and 55% at four year for profit institutions In contrast we find no consumer response when analyzing 60 basis point decrease in the price of federal Parental PLUS loans at some schools using same datasets and similar estimation techniques
