

Molecular Basis of Inheritance Part 2

Chapter 16

Overview:

- Review of DNA Structure
- DNA Replication
 - How is a strand of DNA copied to make 2 identical copies?

DNA Replication and Base Pairing

- The relationship between structure and function is manifested in the double helix.
- Watson and Crick noted that the specific base pairing suggested a possible copying mechanism for genetic material

Replication of DNA

- Replication occurs when DNA is not condensed into discrete chromosomes
- There are 46 Chromosomes in a human cell
- All 46 chromosomes comprise approximately 6 billion base pairs
 - If you were to write all the bases as letters into books the size of "Campbell Biology", the human genetic code would amount to about 1,200 textbooks

How does 1 DNA molecule become 2?

- During DNA replication:
 - Original DNA molecule is the template for making an exact copy
- But, is the new DNA molecule?
 - 1) a completely new copy of the original- "Conservative Model"
 - 2) half the original template and half a new copy- "Semiconservative Model"
 - 3) mixed pieces of original and new- "Dispersive Model"

The "Semiconservative" Model

- Watson and Crick's semiconservative model of replication
- Predicts that when a double helix replicates, each daughter molecule will have:
 - 1) 1 old strand ("conserved" from "parent" molecule) and
 - 2) 1 newly made strand

The Basic Principle: Base Pairing to a Template Strand

- Since the two strands of DNA are complementary, each strand acts as a template for building a new strand in replication
- In DNA replication, the parent molecule unwinds, and two new daughter strands are built based on base-pairing rules
