Michel Foucault Lynn Fendler, 2010 Michel Foucault Lynn Fendler, 2014-10-23 Michel Foucault's influential work spanned a wide array of intellectual disciplines his writings having been widely taken up in philosophy history literary criticism and political theory Focusing on the implications of Foucault's theories for education whilst characterizing them as provocative problematizing poetic and playful Lynn Fendler describes the historical context for understanding Foucault's ground breaking critiques Including a discussion of his major theories of disciplinary power genealogy discourse and subjectivity this text provides generative explanations of concepts using analogies to the Internet and to food in order to connect Foucault's theories to everyday experience Educational Research: Material Culture and Its Representation Paul Smeyers, Marc Depaepe, 2014-02-10 This collection discusses and illustrates how educational research is affected by the economic institutional and physical contingencies of its time and in our time even increasingly is driven by them It is argued that the antidote to this is however not to aspire to thought itself but instead to do justice to its own rootedness in the material including textuality From an historical point of view such an innovative approach can itself revamp the material scholarly culture and the way it is represented The chapters address a variety of topics such as the cultural heritage of the school desk the significance of images for research into long term educational processes the way iconic signs function and how modes of enquiry relate to the materiality of education Attention is also given to standards for reporting on educational research studies and how these limit the scope and communication and moreover shape researchers to the forms of citation practices as substantially influencing methods and content and to the centrality of conversation not just as the means to an end but as what matters further to representational and to non representational theories for educational research Some examples are drawn from the area of arts based educational research from mathematics education and from the discourse on universities The Philosophy of Education: An Introduction Richard Bailey, 2014-10-28 The Philosophy of Education An Introduction encourages the reader to actively engage with the philosophy of education and the carefully selected contributors bring the philosophy of education to life for the reader Each chapter focuses on a particular area of debate and explains the main concepts includes extracts from philosophical writing followed by questions that guide the reader to critically and actively engage with the text guides the reader towards further reading and suggests next steps and more challenging sources or counter pointed arguments The Philosophy of Education An Introduction is essential reading for education students and for trainee teachers on undergraduate and postgraduate programmes It will also appeal to practicing teachers and educationalists who wish to engage with philosophical approaches to contemporary educational issues

a verse by Goethe Wer Gro es will muss sich zusammenraffen In der Beschr nkung zeigt sich erst der Meister Such confinement or limitation that may show mastery does not characterize at all the present state of the educational research publication scene Instead there have never been more of such publications which follow each other with an increasing speed It may therefore be interesting to delve into the reasons of this development that is characteristic of what is published in this field as in many or almost all fields of scholarly work The chapters in this collection address aspects of the re presentation dissemination and reception and the production and acceleration of educational research An international group of scholars philosophers and historians of education address questions such as Why publish The lust for academic fame Why educational historiography is not an unnecessary luxury and Ways of knowing The twelve chapters are preceded by an introduction where issues of plurality and diversity in the study of education are at centre stage and followed by an Epilogue written by the Editors of the Springer Series Educational Research Paul Smeyers and Marc Depaepe offer some final reflections after a journey of two decades that took them and the colleagues participating in the Research Community from 1999 till 2018 floating on the current of the Zeitgeist that carried the Discipline of Education They claim finally that mastery in the study of education requires restraint

Educational Research: Ethics, Social Justice, and Funding Dynamics Paul Smeyers, Marc Depaepe, 2018-03-22 This book examines the conduct and purposes of educational research It looks at values of researchers at whose interests are served by the research and the inclusion or exclusion of practitioners and subjects of research It asks if educational research should be explicitly committed to promoting equality and inclusion and whether that requires research to be more aware of the cultural and global contexts of research questions It explores the ethical challenges encountered in the conduct of research and the potential ethical and social justice constraints imposed by comparative research rankings Next it discusses the research funding aspects of the above issues both philosophically and historically thus examining the changing sources patterns and effects of educational research funding over time Since the conduct of most educational research increasingly requires institutional and financial support the question is whether funding shapes the content of research and what counts as research The book discusses if funding is a factor in the shift of efforts of researchers from pure or basic research to more applied research and if it encourages the development of large research teams to the detriment of individual scholars It looks at the ownership of the content results and data of publicly funded research Finally it tries to establish whether scholars solicit funding to support research projects or generate research projects to attract funding This publication as well as the ones that are mentioned in the preliminary pages of this work were realized by the Research Community Philosophy and History of the Discipline of Education Purposes Projects and Practices of Educational Research
