Goethe: A Very Short Introduction Ritchie Robertson, 2016-01-28

In 1878 the Victorian critic Matthew Arnold wrote Goethe is the greatest poet of modern times because having a very considerable gift for poetry, he was at the same time in the width, depth and richness of his criticism of life by far our greatest modern man. In this Very Short Introduction, Ritchie Robertson covers the life and work of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, 1749-1832, scientist, administrator, artist, art critic and supreme literary writer in a vast variety of genres. Looking at Goethe's poetry, novels and drama pieces as well as his travel writing, autobiography and essays on art and aesthetics, Robertson analyses some of the key themes in his works: love, nature, religion and tragedy. Dispelling the misconception of Goethe as a sedate Victorian sage, Robertson shows how much of his art was rooted in turbulent personal conflicts and draws on recent research to present a complete portrait of the scientific work and political activity which accompanied Goethe's writings.

Iran: A Very Short Introduction Ali Ansari, 2014-11-27

Iran has rarely been out of the headlines. Yet media interest and extensive coverage has tended to hinder rather than help our understanding of Iran as an idea, an identity and a people, leading to a superficial understanding of what is a complex and nuanced political culture and civilization. This Very Short Introduction presents a radical reinterpretation of Iranian history and politics, placing the Islamic Revolution in the context of a century of political change and social transformation. By considering the various factors that have contributed towards the construction of the idea of Iran and the complex identity of Iranians themselves, Ali Ansari steers a clear path towards a more realistic understanding for us all.
