Players are really stakeholders, i.e. are individuals, groups or organisations who have an interest in the development or outcomes of a particular project. They are interested parties as they may be involved financially or emotionally as the development is within a neighbourhood close to where they live.

Depending on projects / examples chosen there could be a number of stakeholders - 'bigger players' examples can include:

Urban The Arts Council offers various funding opportunities for arts linked projects. English Partnerships - principle aim is to 'deliver high quality sustainable growth in England'. Advantage West Midlands - Development Agency	Rural European Union , e.g. Objective 1 programme and LEADER programme Action with Communities in Rural England, or ACRE promotes local rural initiatives Natural England - grants to farmers for various agri-environmental schemes.

Also Regional Development Agencies (can be both urban and rural): Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF), Big Lottery Fund.

Could also be local small-scale / bottom-up / community groups acting as stakeholders. Huge range of possibilities here.
