Japan S Agri Food Sector And The Trans Pacific Partnership:

Japan's Agri-food Sector and the Trans-Pacific Partnership John H. Dyck, Shawn Arita, 2014 Japan's Agri-Food Sector and the Trans-Pacific Partnership United States Department of Agriculture, 2014-12-06 Japan's agriculture has been inward oriented protected by trade barriers from foreign competition Even though the share of Japan's food consumption provided by Japanese production has gradually fallen Japan's farm sector remains the second largest among the countries negotiating the Trans Pacific Partnership TPP Japan's food industry is increasingly integrated with TPP economies although the TPP share of Japan's agricultural imports has fallen over time The proposed TPP agreement would lead to more agricultural exports to Japan from TPP partners likely dominating the total agricultural trade impact of such an agreement Despite potentially large import increases especially in the rice beef and dairy sectors the proposed agreement would only marginally reduce Japan's output Intrinsic strengths of Japanese agricultural production and constraints to the growth of supply in the rest of the TPP countries may limit the impact of the agreement on Japan's agriculture Nevertheless U S exports would be well positioned to meet Japan's new import demand

The Trans-Pacific Partnership and the Path to Free Trade in the Asia-Pacific Peter C.Y. Chow, 2016-08-26 Mega regionalism in the Asia Pacific has led to the formation of several emerging trade blocs including the Trans Pacific Partnership This book in addition to the examination of trade policies in the region offers a comprehensive analysis of ongoing developments such as the impact of new members on the incumbent TPP 12 and its spillover to third parties as well an objective study of the crucial issues of liberalization of agriculture pharmaceuticals and intellectual property rights

Trans-Pacific Partnership: An Assessment Cathleen Cimino-Isaacs, Jeffrey J. Schott, 2016-07-20 The Trans Pacific Partnership TPP between 12 Pacific Rim countries has generated the most intensive political debate about the role of trade in the United States in a generation The TPP is one of the broadest and most progressive free trade agreements since the North American Free Trade Agreement NAFTA The essays in this Policy Analysis provide estimates of the TPP's benefits and costs and analyze more than 20 issues in the agreement including environmental and labor standards tariff schedules investment and competition policy intellectual property ecommerce services and financial services government procurement dispute settlement and agriculture Through extensive analysis of the TPP text PIIE scholars present an indispensable and detailed reader's guide that also sheds light on the agreement's merits and shortcomings In Rich People Poor Countries Caroline Freund identifies and analyzes nearly 700 emerging market billionaires whose net worth adds up to more than 2 trillion Freund finds that these titans of industry are propelling poor countries out of their small scale production and agricultural past and into a future of multinational industry and service based mega firms And more often than not the new billionaires are using their newfound acumen to navigate the globalized economy without necessarily relying on political connections inheritance or privileged access to resources This story of emerging market billionaires and the global businesses they create dramatically illuminates the process of industrialization in the modern world economy      The Trans-Pacific Partnership United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Finance,2013      The Trans Pacific Partnership, China and India Amitendu Palit,2014-06-05 The United States and 11 other countries from both sides of the Pacific are currently negotiating the Trans Pacific Partnership TPP The agreement is expected to set new benchmark for international trade through its comprehensive coverage of issues and binding regulations It is expected to eventually mature into a regional trade agreement covering the entire Asia Pacific As of now it does not include China and India the two largest emerging markets and regional economies The TPP has generated controversy for its excessive emphasis on trade issues which have remained unresolved or unaddressed at the WTO due to differences between developed and emerging markets It has also been criticized for adopting a negotiating style reflecting the US regulatory approach to international trade and also as a geo political strategy of the US for supporting its strategic rebalancing towards Asia From both economic and geo political perspectives the TPP has various significant implications for China and India that are examined in the book This book sheds light on how China and India s entries in the TPP are mutually beneficial and how both countries can gain from the TPP by gaining preferential access to large markets and using it as an opportunity for introducing more outward oriented reforms The book also cautions that US must reconcile to the rebalancing of economic power within the grouping that will occur following the entries of China and India Otherwise the TPP and China and India might walk divergent paths and trade and regional integration in Asia Pacific may not ever converge This book will interest anyone who wishes to learn more about the TPP and its future implications and challenges and China and India s roles in global and regional trade      The Trans-Pacific Partnership Matthew Rimmer,2020-12-25 This book considers the impact of the Trans Pacific Partnership TPP on intellectual property and trade The book focuses upon the debate over copyright law intermediary liability and technological protection measures The text examines the negotiations over trade mark law cybersquatting geographical indications and the plain packaging of tobacco products It explores the debate over patent law and access to essential medicines data protection and biologics and the protection of trade secrets In addition the book investigates the treatment of Indigenous intellectual property access to genetic resources and plant breeders rights

The Trans-Pacific Partnership C. L. Lim,Deborah Kay Elms,Patrick Low,2012-09-20 The Trans Pacific Partnership TPP talks attempt to link together at least nine countries in three continents to create a high quality twenty first century agreement Such an agreement is intended to open markets to competition between the partners more than ever before in sectors ranging from goods and services to investment and includes rigorous rules in the fields of intellectual property labour protection and environmental conservation The TPP also aims to improve regulatory coherence enhance production supply chains and help boost small and medium sized enterprises It could transform relations with regions such as Latin America paving the way to an eventual Free Trade Area of the Asia Pacific or see innovations translated into the global trade regulatory system operating under the WTO However given the tensions between strategic and economic concerns the final deal could still collapse into something closer to a standard twentieth century trade agreement

The Trans-Pacific Partnership and Canada Scott Sinclair, Stuart Trew, 2016-10-27 The Trans Pacific Partnership with its twelve participating countries on three continents is the largest regional trade and investment agreement that Canada has ever negotiated It is also one of the most controversial for good reason Negotiations ended exactly a year ago in October 2015 and the TPP was signed in New Zealand in February 2016 But there is no guarantee it will ever come into effect Opposition to the TPP is strongest in the United States where both 2016 presidential nominees vowed to kill or significantly renegotiate the deal Outgoing President Barack Obama characterized the TPP as a Made in America deal in the hope of getting it passed into law shortly after the November presidential election But is what is good for corporate America good for Canada In this book experts in a dozen policy areas explain what the impact of the TPP agreement would be on Canada Many of the key issues they explore have received little media coverage notably the effect of the TPP on environmental protection health care and other public services Canada's cultural industries the labour market human rights and the democratic decision making process generally Perhaps most controversially the TPP would expand the rights of multinational corporations to sue governments for policies and decisions that interfere with their profits Most public commentary on the TPP in Canada has come from CEOs and business lobbyists with a vested interest in furthering a free trade model that impoverishes democracy and weakens our ability to shape public interest regulation The expert contributors to this book drawn from academia the labour movement and NGO world offer an independent and nuanced account of the real but underreported costs of the TPP

The Determinants of Leadership Fei Su, 2022-08-25 This book investigates the determinants of leadership in East Asia emphasizing the significance of followership in the success and failure of leadership projects proposed by China Japan and the United States While doing so it answers a central question in the field of international relations Why do potential leader countries succeed in obtaining potential followers in some instances but fail to do so in other instances Employing an inclusive leadership and societal approach the book investigates how the leading countries motivate followership in East Asian economic and security dynamics It analyzes how Chinese Japanese and American leadership obtained acceptance from potential followers focusing on the significance of domestic politics of potential follower countries in shaping their governmental preferences and generating followership The book features empirical evidence in six case studies covering topics such as the successful Chinese endeavor of South Korea joining the Chinese initiative for the Asian Infrastructure and Investment Bank AIIB the failed US attempt to prevent South Korea from doing so the US's success to convince Japan to join the Trans Pacific Partnership TPP the failed Japanese strive for winning South Korea's support for Japan's bid for a permanent seat at the UN Security Council UNSC the Chinese failure at obtaining the Philippines backing of the Chinese aspirations in the South China Sea SCS during the Aquino Presidency and finally the Chinese success on the same effort during the Duterte presidency The book will appeal to students scholars and researchers of international relations interested in a better understanding of leadership determinants in East Asia Global Power Shift foreign policy as well as East Asian economic and security dynamics Vietnam's Agri-food Sector and the Trans-Pacific Partnership Shawn Arita, John H. Dyck, 2014 Feeding Japan Andreas Niehaus, Tine Walravens, 2017-08-22 This edited collection explores the historical dimensions cultural practices socio economic mechanisms and political agendas that shape the notion of a national cuisine inside and outside of Japan Japanese food is often perceived as pure natural healthy and timeless and these words not only fuel a hype surrounding Japanese food and lifestyle worldwide but also a domestic retro movement that finds health and authenticity in traditional ingredients dishes and foodways The authors in this volume bring together research from the fields of history cultural and religious studies food studies as well as political science and international relations and aim to shed light on relevant aspects of culinary nationalism in Japan while unearthing the underlying patterns and processes in the construction of food identities The Comprehensive and Progressive Trans-Pacific Partnership Jorge A. Huerta-Goldman, David A. Gantz, 2021-12-02 This volume provides comprehensive chapter by chapter assessment of one of the world's most important regional trade agreements the TPP CPTPP The Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Finance, 2013 Vietnam's Agri-Food Sector and the Trans-Pacific Partnership United States Department of Agriculture, 2014-12-09 In 1986 Vietnam embarked on a gradualist approach to market reform and steadily pursued trade agreements under a strategy of export led growth The country has since emerged as one of Asia's dynamic economies and a growing market for agri food trade The proposed Trans Pacific Partnership TPP is Vietnam's next step toward increased economic integration This report provides an overview of Vietnam's agri food sector and an analysis of its trade with potential TPP partners Examination of Vietnam's trade and tariff structure suggests modest agricultural trade growth potential from the proposed TPP agreement Vietnam's current preferential trade agreements PTAs with many of the negotiating TPP countries already provide low or duty free rates Major Vietnamese exports such as coffee and natural rubber are not expected to gain from an agreement Nevertheless even though many of Vietnam's PTAs overlap with potential TPP partners TPP could provide new opportunities where those agreements did not liberalize market access Rice and smaller export sectors cassava starch pepper processed foods honey could grow For U.S. agricultural exporters Vietnam's already low tariff rates on animal feed and commodities for industrial inputs do not provide much growth opportunity for its top products however trade liberalization could lead to increased U.S. markets for consumer oriented exports including meats dairy products fruits and other high value U.S. food products Additional economic growth generated by an agreement would also increase Vietnam's import demand The Trans-Pacific Partnership and Asia-Pacific Integration Peter A. Petri, Michael G. Plummer, Fan Zhai, 2012 While global trade negotiations remain stalled two tracks of trade negotiations in the Asia Pacific the proposed Trans Pacific Partnership TPP agreement and a parallel Asian track could generate momentum for renewed liberalization and provide pathways to region wide free trade We estimate that world income would rise by 295 billion per year on the TPP track by 766 billion if both tracks are successful and by 1.9 trillion if the tracks ultimately combine to yield region wide free trade. The tracks are competitive initially but their strategic implications appear to be constructive; they generate incentives for enlargement and mutual progress and over time for region wide consolidation. The 21st century template of the TPP would be especially productive because it is likely to offer opportunities for the leading sectors of both emerging market and advanced economies. An ambitious TPP template would generate greater gains from integration than less demanding alternatives but it will be harder to sell to China and other key regional partners as the TPP evolves toward wider agreements. The crucial importance of Asia Pacific integration argues for an early conclusion of the TPP negotiations but without jeopardizing the prospects for region wide or even global agreements based on it in the future. Market integration with ASEAN and beyond: The case of Myanmar Ajmani, Manmeet, Joshi, Pramod Kumar, Vr, Renjini, Roy, Devesh, 2018-11-29 In this paper we address the question of market integration of Myanmar with the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) and its other top trading partners. Focusing on agricultural trade, we use indicators Trade Potential and Competition Indices to assess the nature and extent of the integration. This study highlights the exports of Myanmar which are competitive in the ASEAN markets and have high export potential A higher trade potential with lower competition value or volume would indicate an opportunity for higher returns for agricultural producers In the case of Myanmar dried legumes and beans crustaceans frozen fish other oilseeds maize and preserved fruits and nuts are identified as high potential exports with lower competition in ASEAN markets which can be targeted for trade expansion Finally to demonstrate the upward movement in the value chain possibly due to quality upgradation we present the dynamics of the unit value of Myanmar s agricultural exports
