Leaving Credit Card Debt Dubai:

The Report: Dubai 2016 Oxford Business Group, 2016-10-17 Financial services in particular is one non oil area where the emirate is starting to pull ahead with recent growth in the Islamic financial services segment fuelling the emirate's ambition of becoming the knowledge based capital of the Islamic economy in the future. Meanwhile Dubai's real estate and construction sectors which were badly affected by the 2008 financial meltdown are once again thriving as the legacies of the global crisis recede and the debts incurred from that time are repaid and restructured. Indeed Dubai is now firmly focused on the future with preparations for Dubai Expo 2020 in particular helping nourish its economic recovery development and growth in recent years. The event is expected to attract 25m visitors over a six month period and the build up is driving development across several sectors. The preparations Mercenaries and Missionaries Brandon

Vaidyanathan, 2019-05-15 Mercenaries and Missionaries examines the relationship between rapidly diffusing forms of capitalism and Christianity in the Global South. Using more than two hundred interviews in Bangalore and Dubai, Brandon Vaidyanathan explains how and why global corporate professionals straddle conflicting moral orientations in the realms of work and religion. Seeking to place the spotlight on the role of religion in debates about the cultural consequences of capitalism, Vaidyanathan finds that an apprehensive individualism generated in global corporate workplaces is supported and sustained by a therapeutic individualism cultivated in evangelical charismatic Catholicism. Mercenaries and Missionaries uncovers a symbiotic relationship between these individualisms and shows how this relationship unfolds in two global cities: Dubai in non-democratic UAE which holds what is considered the world's largest Catholic parish and Bangalore in democratic India where the Catholic Church, though afflicted by ethnic and religious violence, runs many of the city's elite educational institutions. Vaidyanathan concludes that global corporations and religious communities create distinctive cultures with normative models that powerfully orient people to those cultures: the Mercenary in cutthroat workplaces and the Missionary in churches. As a result, global corporate professionals in rapidly developing cities negotiate starkly opposing moral commitments in the realms of work and religion which in turn shapes their civic commitment to these cities. The Report: Dubai 2015 Oxford Business Group, 2011-01-12 Already a regional and global centre for business and finance, Dubai's reputation has been bolstered by the MSCI's decision to upgrade the UAE from frontier to emerging market status in 2014 while the emirate's successful Expo 2020 bid is expected to generate myriad opportunities for private investors across a range of sectors. Construction is thriving once again, driven in large part by strong retail sector growth with various projects including plans for the world's largest mall, indicating that the sector will maintain its position as the emirate's biggest GDP contributor moving forward. The transport and logistics framework is set for major expansion in the coming years as well, further cementing the emirate's status as a leading transport and logistics hub not just regionally but globally too. The continued development of Dubai's retail and hospitality offerings alongside the upgrades to its airports should help to ensure
