Lucas, Laura Moore Pruett, 2024-10-14 Teaching Difficult Topics provides a series of on the ground reflections from college music instructors working in a wide variety of institutional settings about their approaches to inclusive supportive pedagogy in the music classroom Although some imagine the music classroom to be an apolitical space instructors find themselves increasingly in need of resources for incorporating issues of race and ethnicity gender and sexuality and historical trauma into their classrooms in ways that support student learning and safeguard their classroom communities The teaching reflections in Teaching Difficult Topics examine difficult themes that fall into three primary categories subjects that instructors sense to be controversial or emotionally challenging to discuss those that derive from or intersect with real world events that are difficult to process and bigger picture discussions of how music studies often focuses on dominant narratives while overlooking other perspectives Some chapters offer practical guidance lesson plans and teaching materials to enable instructors to build discussions of race gender sexuality and traumatic histories into their own classrooms others take a more global view reflecting on the importance and relevance of teaching these difficult topics and on how to respond in the music classroom when external events disrupt daily life The World of Anne Frank Betty Merti,1998 Make The Diary of Anne

Frank personally compelling and instructive for your students This book brings the work to life by putting it in its historical context and providing relevant activities Each reading is supported by vocabulary comprehension discussion and writing activities The Study of Religion in Sweden Henrik Bogdan,Göran Larsson,2024-03-07 This book provides a comprehensive examination of the study of religions in Sweden from the early twentieth century to the present and shows how the intersection of national and social forces shape the study of religion in specific countries and contexts It traces the establishment of the study of religions as an integrated part of Higher Education in Sweden and it critically examines the development of the most significant disciplines themes and questions that form Religious Studies in Sweden Demonstrating the interconnection between nationality and the formation of the academic study of religion the book explores how Sweden is often described as the most secularised country in the world yet the study of religions in Sweden has a long rich and diverse history The book emphasizes the interdisciplinary nature of the study of religions and bring together the voices of 30 scholars
