

Biography

Charlotte Brontë was born on April 21, 1816 in Yorkshire England. In 1821 her mother died from what was thought to be cancer. Her father was an Anglican preacher and she was also partially raised by her aunt.

Two of her oldest siblings, Maria and Elizabeth, died in 1824 of tuberculosis they contracted due to the poor management of the school.

She and her two sisters attended Clergy Daughter's School.

She enlisted in school at Roe Head in January 1831, aged 14 years.

She worked as a teacher and a governess but then returned home.

For her, being a governess was akin to "slavery," because she felt temperamentally unsuited for it.

Charlotte began putting all of her energy into her writing.

Excited to be writing full-time, each of the Brontë sisters began a novel.

Anne's Agnes Grey and Emily's Wuthering Heights both found publishers, but Charlotte's somewhat autobiographical account of her experiences in Brussels.

Refusing to become discouraged, began Jane Eyre and was published in 1847. It was an instant success earning impressive 500 pounds, twenty-five times her salary as a governess.

She also wrote Shirley in 1848 and Villette in 1853.

Charlotte got married to Arthur Bell Nicholls in 1854.

She died one year later in 1855.
