Virus Hunt Dorothy H. Crawford, 2013-06-27 The hunt for the origin of the AIDS virus began over twenty years ago It was a journey that went around the world and involved painstaking research to unravel how when and where the virus first infected humans Dorothy H Crawford traces the story back to the remote rain forests of Africa home to the primates that carry the ancestral virus and reveals how HIV 1 first jumped from chimpanzees to humans in rural south east Cameroon Examining how this happened and how it then travelled back to Colonial west central Africa where it eventually exploded as a pandemic she asks why and how it was able to spread so widely From hospital intensive care wards to research laboratories and the African rain forests this is the wide ranging story of a killer virus and a tale of scientific endeavour

Psychological Perspective on Joy and Emotional Fulfillment Chris Meadows, 2013-11-26 Throughout the history of psychology there have been full investigations of discrete emotions particularly negative ones and a recent wealth of books on happiness but few exist on the emotion of joy This book takes a unique psychological approach to understanding this powerful emotion and provides a framework within which the study of human joy and other related positive fulfillment experiences can fit in a meaningful schema A key feature of this book is its development of an experiential phenomenology of joy This phenomenology is based on more than three hundred descriptions of joy experiences recounted by subjects in an empirical study executed by the author Types of joy experiences are examined such as excited vs serene joy anticipatory vs completed joy and affiliative vs individuated joy There is no comparable book or work that clarifies the relationship among major positive states with emotional components including satisfaction happiness and ecstasy

Current Biography Yearbook, 1992 Chimpanzee Cultures Richard W. Wrangham, 1996 Compares and contrasts the ecology social relations and cognition of chimpanzees bonobos and occasionally gorillas Aging in Nonhuman Primates J. M. Erwin, P. R. Hof, Tamàs Fülöp, 2002-07 As the number of elderly people in human populations increases the study of normal aging age related disorders and enhanced longevity is taking on new urgency Fundamental research will provide means of preventing and effectively treating the most debilitating and distressing aspects of advanced age Considerations of aging in non human life forms do not aim at life extension but at an increasing appreciation for the biological role of the aging process in populations in addition to developing a more comprehensive understanding of the mechanisms of aging The present volume focuses on primate aging because human characteristics that evolved during their evolution are homologous with those of other primates Therefore the research on nonhuman primates will decidedly also contribute to our understanding of the process of human aging The topics of this volume include brain aging and neurodegenerative diseases social behavior cognition and aging skeletal aging in natural and captive conditions and consequences of caloric restriction for life and health extension The great variety of contributions aim at providing a survey of the relevant work in progress and increasing the understanding of normal and pathological aging and life span enhancement in a variety of nonhuman primate species
