Learn Accounting Learn Accounting:

Fundamentals of Accounting Donatila Agtarap-San Juan, 2007-09 This text discusses and presents accounting principles and concepts in layman's terms using simple day to day terminologies. Definitions are always amplified by examples familiar to students. The steps in the accounting process are discussed using the same illustration problems from chapter to chapter so that the student can connect the relationship of the steps in the accounting process. Being a basic accounting textbook, the book will provide students with a solid and strong basic accounting knowledge to better equip them to tackle more advanced accounting courses. Accounting as a field of study is professional accounting knowledge is learned in stages; what is learned in basic accounting is used and applied in more advanced accounting courses. Consequently, if a student has a weak basic accounting foundation, he will have difficulty succeeding in more advanced accounting courses.

e-Learning, e-Education, and Online Training Weina Fu, Shuai Liu, Jianhua Dai, 2021-08-04 This 2 volume set constitutes the proceedings of the 7th International Conference on e Learning, e Education and Online Training (eLEOT 2021) held in Xinxiang, China, in June 2021. Inside Accounting David Leung, 2016-05-23 Based on a study covering a one year financial reporting cycle at a commercial subsidiary of a well known scientific research organization, Inside Accounting examines how accountants and non accounting managers construct their company's earnings. Addressing issues in both internal management accounting such as budgeting, performance evaluation and control, as well as external financial accounting such as book keeping, monthly year end accounts and auditing, David Leung focuses on how people classify transactions, make professional judgments and use computer software for accounting and prepare for and facilitate the auditing process. He also looks at accountancy training and the impact of people's affiliations to the accounting profession or other professions on their accounting and on their perceptions of financial statements. Other contingent or contextual factors that influence the choice of accounting method such as time pressure, reward structures, management authority and institutions are also considered. David Leung's research employs an innovative blend of theory and practice that redresses the imbalance between ethnographic studies of financial accounting and management accounting and helps close the gap between the academic curriculum and the experiences of practitioners. His research leads the author to conclude that no act of accounting classification is ever indefeasibly correct; that the accounting community's institutions and authority are central to the accounting process and to the truth and fairness of accounting numbers; that accounting training involves extensive use of learning by doing; and that both accountants and non accounting managers have goals and interests that often result in no better than good enough accounting This book will appeal to accounting and finance professionals and academics in finance as well as to sociologists and academic researchers interested in research methods and science studies
